RESERVE UNIT ENROLLS THREE; TWO VETERANS

Membership in Company A, 313th Infantry Regiment of the Army Reserve here climbed to 52 men Tuesday evening when three new men were enrolled — two of them veterans and the third an 18-year-old Gettysburg High School graduate entering upon an eight-year enlistment that will begin with six months of active duty.

David L. Smiley, 25, York Springs R. D., was enrolled as a sergeant, the rank with which he was discharged in August, 1954, after duty in Korea. Smiley, a bricklayer in civilian life, entered the service in October, 1952, and took basic training at Camp Gordon. He attended a polie-line construction school there before going to Korea for 16 months with the 51st Signal Corps. He was discharged at Fort Meade. He is married and the father of a young daughter.

Served In Europe

Second recruit is Glenn F. Kauffman, 30, veteran of the European campaign in World War II. Kauffman, a state highway department employe, lives on W. High St. He entered service in November, 1943, and was discharged in January, 1946 as a corporal. He took basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala., was assigned to the 4th Infantry Regiment and sent to Europe where he earned Normandy, North France and Central Europe campain ribbons.

Tim Floyd Crouse, aged 18, who graduated last month from Gettysburg High School, will begin his six months of active duty in August and then spend 7½ years in the Reserve. He is a son of Mrs. Pauline Crouse and is engaged in farming with his brothers.

Chaplain William F. Henry, from headquarters of the 313th Regiment at Harrisburg, spoke to the local Reserve unit Tuesday evening at the American Legion building on "Self Discipline." M. Sgt. James Sneeringer, Hanover, gave a second hour of map reading.

Five Die In Dallas Collision

Patrolman J. R. Leavell investigates scene of truck-car collision in Dallas, Tex., where five persons, all passengers in the auto, were killed Tuesday. Three other passengers in car and a pedestrian were injured when the truck, loaded with concrete building tiles, collided with the auto at a street intersection. (AP Wirephoto)

KIWANIS CLUB GIVEN REPORT ON CONVENTION

With visitors present from fove nearby clubs, members of the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club received a report on the Kiwanis International convention Tuesday evening at their weekly dinner meeting at the Dutch Cupboard. The club's president, Charles Graham, presided with visitors on hand from Steelton which had eight members here, five from Chambersburg, four from Hanover and one each from Carlisle and Harrisburg.

The San Fancisco convention report was given by Paul H. Kunkle that Reed C. Culp of Salt Lake City was elected as the new international president and that the 1957 convention will be held next June at Atlantic City.

Kunkle told of the convention memorial address which was delivered by Dr. Raymond I. Lindquist, pastor of the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, and of the talk made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Kunkle's report chiefly concerned optimistic observations made in a convention address by John Henfield Morley, news correspondent who recently returned from a trip around the world. Morley cited as "trends of hope not noted in former trips": the fact that Bibles are sold in department stores in Russia and the number of Protestant churches there increased from 500 to 7,000 in three years. He lauded the efforts of President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles "for creating an atmosphere of peace and trust within the free world." The convention theme, Kunkle said, was "Build As Free Men."

Dairy Specialist Speaks On Tuesday

Dr. Howard Thoele, dairy extension specialist from the Pennsylvania State University, was the speaker at a meeting Tuesday evening at the farm of J. Allen Spangler, Aspers R. 1, sponsored by the Southeastern Pennsylvania Artificial Breeding Cooperative in the interest of dairy herd improvement.

Theme of the meeting was "Calf Raising" but many of the major points of successful dairying were touched upon during the evening. Dr. Thoele said U. S. Department of Agriculture reports show that nearly 25 per cent of the nation's dairy cattle are being bred artificially and that Pennsylvania ranks first with 47 per cent. A large per cent of the artificial breeding is conducted by farmer cooperatives, he added.

The Southeastern Pennsylvania cooperative which operates in this are bred 101,705 cows in 1955 to rank 13th among the cooperatives of the nation.

Trooper Treas Is Given New Duties

Trooper James A. Treas, member of the traffic detail of the Gettysburg sub-station of the state police for nearly 15 years, has been transferred to the criminal investigation division. Treas and his family reside on York St.

Two other veteran members of the Gettysburg sub-station staff have been transferred from the barracks here to headquarters at Harrisburg. Trooper David K. James and Trooper George Ackerson, who served 10 and 14 years, respectively, at the local sub-station, have been moved.

James, who was elevated from private first class to corporal, will continue in criminal investigation work. Ackerson has been assigned as a garage inspector.

The following safety shorts were prepared by the National Safety Council:

More Americans died on the highway in 1955 alone than on the battlefield during the entire Korean War!

The NSC's statistical yearbook, "Ancient Facts," just off the press, shows there were 38,300 traffic deaths in the United States in 1955. Official Defense Department records list the battle deaths in the Korean War at 33,629.

"We don't for a moment want to imply that the highway is as hazardous as the battlefield," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "But the fact is that the loss to the nation from the 1955 traffic toll is greater in terms of human life than the loss sustained in the Korean War. Therefore, it's certainly worth getting excited about."

Approximately 1,350,000 Americans were injured in motor vehicle accidents during the year, the Council said.

Don't laugh at your wife because you think she's a scaredy-cat. Feminine prudence and skill are playing a part in holding the accidental death toll of women to about half the toll of men! . . . men are more exposed to danger because of their occupations and activities.

More women than men were killed in falls in 1954 — the latest figure available. But the difference was not very great — 551. And in all the other seven principal causes of accidental deaths, men outnumbered women.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 26,725 men, 8,861 women; falls, 9,610 men, 10,161 women; fire burns, 3,372 men, 2,711 women; drownings, 5,450 men, 884 women; railroad accidents, 2,129 men, 487 women; firearms, 2,016 men, 265 women; poison gases, 881 men, 342 women, and poisons (except gas), 779 men, 560 women.

Do you ever moan, "This heat is killing me"? Well, it can — and so can cold!

Excessive heat and cold killed 1,208 persons in the United States in 1954. Excessive heat was responsible for 978 of the deaths, excessive cold for 230.

Hunger, thirst and exposure killed 238 other persons.

The 1954 figures are the latest available.

Woman's Head Cut In Carlisle St. Fall

Traffic was held up for several minutes on Carlisle St. in front of The Gettysburg Times news room Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock when Mrs. Mary Gulden, 242 E. Middle St., "blacked out" and fell to the roadway as she was crossing the street.

The Gettysburg Fire Company rescue truck was called and Mrs. Gulden was taken to the Warner Hospital. Upon regaining consciousness there she declined treatment and returned to her home. Her only apparent injury was a cut on the head.

602 CHILDREN GET FREE POLIO SHOTS AT CLINIC

Six hundred and two boys and girls from all parts of Adams County have received free first shots of anti-polio Salk vaccine at the state clinics conducted at the Warner Hospital and 149 of the youngsters have been back for second shots.

The third clinic was held Tuesday evening and 186 shots were given in one hour from 5 to 6 o'clock.

State nurses said 157 boys and girls whose parents could not otherwise afford the shots were given first injections without charge at the clinic Tuesday evening. There were 29 children there for the second and final shot during the same hour.

Next Clinic July 31

Another free clinic for giving the Salk shots has been announced for next Tuesday, July 31, from 5 to 6 p.m. at the Warner Hospital.

The clinics which are set up under the general supervision of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director, have served children from all sections of the county. Records show that children have come from Fountaindale and Midway, from East Berlin and Buchanan Valley.

State nurses said that as far as they know all parents who were eligible to have their children receive the shots and who wished their youngsters to have that protection have been able to get their boys and girls to the clinics.

4,000 Out Of 16,000

Car pools have been used to bring youngsters from some of the more distant sections of the county, the nurses said.

On the basis of clinic reports, health authorities said today that more than 3,000 Adams County youngsters — possibly 4,000 or more — have received Salk polio vaccine.

The state program of inoculations in the public schools of the county last year provided first shot for 2,260 children and 2,031 of them received second shots. In addition to the 602 children inoculated at the "free" clinics at the hospital are the uncounted hundreds of shot given by county physicians to their own patients. No tabulation is made of those shots.

State nurses said there are 16,098 boys and girls in the county under 20 years of age.

GREENMOUNT TO HOLD BAZAAR

The Greenmount Fire company is making preparations for its annual carnival and bazaar to be held Friday and Saturday, August 3 and 4, and assigned committee heads at a company meeting Monday evening.

Announcement was made Monday that radio hillbilly recording artists will head the entertainment bill for both evenings of the carnival. On August 3 Wilma Lee, Stony Cooper and the Clinch Mountain Clan will perform and on August 4 Arnold Wagaman and the Town and Country Boys will be the attraction.

The 90 members of the company are asked to report Thursday and Saturday of this week to make preparations for the carnival.

James Fiscle and Edward Gilland are on the general carnival committee. The supper committee includes Bud McDonnell, John Herring, "Slim" Plank and John Fiscle. Walter Simpson will be in charge of the pit barbecue and these members have been named to the construction committee: Paul Wolff James Wenschhof, Leonard Dick and Clarence Keckler.

President Melvin Burton presided at Monday's meeting.

Marine Private Says McKeon Hid Vodka After Fatal March

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A bspectacled, blushing Marine guard said today S.Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon tried to hide a vodka bottle after the death march of Platoon 71.

In a voice cracking with nervousness, Pfc. Fred A. MaGrunder told the McKeon court-martial the vodka bottle was recovered from behind a toilet bowl.

McKeon is the 31-year-old drill instructor from Worcester, Mass., who led a 74-man recruit platoon on a night disciplinary march into a tidal marsh where six drowned.

McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty. There is no charge that when he led the platoon on the fatal march he was drunk.

Previous Testimony

There has been previous testimony that McKeon had been drinking vodka the morning of April 8, a Sunday, and that "he raised a bottle to his lips" just before setting out on the hike.

McGruder, who is from Jackson, Miss., testified he had been told to stand guard over McKeon.

"It was while I was guarding Sgt. McKeon," he said hesitantly, "I noticed Sgt. McKeon darting into the head (toilet).

"I followed him," MaGruder recounted, "and saw him place something behind the toilet. I called the corporal (unidentified) and asked him to retrieve it. The corporal brought out a fifth of vodka."

Corporal Testifies

MaGruder was followed to the stand by Cpl. Arnold J. Lyons, 21, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Lyons said he was the corporal who retrieved the bottle from "behind the commode."

He reported overhearing McKeon saying plaintively, "What can you say when two of your men have been eaten up" as he sat shivering in his room after the fatal march.

Lyons was the twentieth survivor of the march "to teach them discipline" to testify.

During the morning session, the prosecutor, Maj. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill., said he was issuing subponeas for the 18 former Marines asked by the defense as witnesses.

By the time the parade of witnesses resumed, the main argument for the defense had become clear: If the Marine recruits had followed where McKeon led there would have been no deaths.

W. Clayton Jester Resigns As South Mountain Fair Manager; Board To Fill Post On Thursday

W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville Star Route, active in the South Mountain Fair Association for a number of years, a former secretary of the fair association and fair manager for the last five years, has submitted his resignation as executive director to the fair association president, M. E. Knouse.

Mr. Jester is resigning because of the critical illness of his son, William, who is a patient in the Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D. C.

A regular meeting of the board of directors of the fair association will be held Thursday evening at the fairgrounds. Action on the Jester resignation and the matter of filling the position for the 1956 fair will be on the agenda, President Knouse said.

Premium Lists Soon

Dates for his year's fair are September 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Saturday again will be Horse Show Day at the fair.

Fair officials have announced that all children of Adams County schools will be admitted free on the fairgrounds Wednesday, Thursday and Friday up to 4 p.m. during fair week.

Premium lists for the fair are in the hands of the printer and soon will be ready for distribution.

Rodeo Is Highlight

Official opening of the fair is set for 6 p.m. on Tuesday, September 4, and at 8 o'clock that evening the Black Diamond Ranch Rodeo, highlight of the fair entertainment program for this year, will present its first show in the horse show ring. Exhibits will be received in all departments of the fair from 8 a.m. Tuesday throughout the day.

Wednesday of Fair Week has been designated as 4-H and Judging Day with judging of all exhibits to be conducted by specialists from Pennsylvania State University. Wednesday also will be Antique Car Day with the Gettysburg Regional Antique Car Club

Herter Will Name Nixon; Stassen's Bubble Bursts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen's connection with the Eisenhower administration hung in the balance today after a crushing defeat of his effort to force Vice President Nixon off the Republican ballot.

Stassen's drive to substitute Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts for Nixon was swallowed up in a tidal wave generated largely by GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Hall got Nixon and Herter together on the telephone. The result was an agreement that Herter will place Nixon's name in nomination at the party's convention in San Francisco next month.

Nixon said there was no reciprocal agreement under which he and Herter might agree later to trade roles, as Stassen had suggested.

Herter Not Candidate

Herter told a news conference he is not a candidate for anything, despite Stassen's statement. But he added he is ready to do anything Eisenhower asks him to do for the good of the party, including running for vice president.

Stassen, still battling, contended the rapid developments "only strengthen" his campaign. Of Herter's action, he said that because Herter was not a candidate, "he could do nothing" but agree when asked to nominate Nixon.

"It's a matter of drafting him (Herter) anyway," Stassen added.

Stassen said Hall had asked Herter to put Nixon's name in nomination about a week ago and Herter's acceptance did not change his plans to push the Massachusetts governor for the No. 2 spot.

Nixon told reporters in a Capitol corridor interview he was satisfied that neither Herter nor any responsible member of the administration had supported Stassen's effort to dump him.

Praising Herter highly, he added:

"I think Mr. Herter unfortunately is the man in the middle here."

Has No Backing

After checks reportedly had been made by Hall, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference no other

INDICTED FOR MEDDLING WITH BILL PASSAGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two oil company attorneys were under indictment today on six charges of attempting to influence Senate passage of the natural gas bill last winter.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury here yesterday, accused John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb., and Elmer Patman of offering a $2,500 campaign contribution to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) in an effort to get his vote.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said the grand jury inquiry is continuing.

Conspiracy Charge

The attorneys also were charged with conspiring with Superior Oil Co. of California to violate the Lobbying Act. Superior Oil, headed by Howard B. Keck of Los Angeles, was named defendant only to the conspiracy count of the indictment.

Neff and Patman were charged with working for Superior Oil "for the purposes of attempting to influence the passage" of the bill to exempt independent gas producers from direct federal regulation.

They were accused of failing to register as lobbyists as required by law.

Sen. Case voted against the bill after announcing the $2,500 campaign contribution offer to the Senate last February. The Senate passed the bill, but President Eisenhower vetoed it with a statement deploring the "arrogance" and "highly questionable activities" of some of its supporters.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Freeman Glass; vice president, Lloyd Weidner; secretary, Miss Mildred Osborn; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Guise.

It was decided to hold a reunion next year on July 28 at the same place.

Taneytown Girl, 13, Wins State Honors

Barbara Rinehart, Taneytown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Rinehart, has won the Maryland 4-H Junior Broiler Production contest held in conjunction with the Maryland State Poultry Council convention held recently at Ocean City, Md.

Barbara became eligible to participate in the state finals after winning the Central Maryland regional contest which consisted of 63 entries from Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, Washington and Carroll Counties.

She was awarded an expense paid trip to Ocean City to attend the state convention there. She was awarded a gold plaque by C. Bounds Phillips, president of the Maryland State Poultry Council.

Barbara is 13 years of age and is a grandniece of Mrs. Luther Wetzel, Orrtanna, and S. Luther Baltzley of Gettysburg. She has been an active member of the Piney Creek 4-H Club for four years.

STOCK PRICES BRISK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved ahead briskly early this afternoon under leadership by steels and rails.

Pivotal stocks rose from fractions to around 2 points generally. Some advanced beyond that point. There were some small losers.

The news that settlement of the 25-day steel strike appeared imminent sparked steel shares to a rise from the start. They touched off a decisive advance by rails, which have suffered from the drop in steel mill shipments and will profit when the plants re-open.

The trading pace was fairly active and the rise in prices was steady but not sensational.

member of the White House staff was backing Stassen's move to drop Nixon from the ticket.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) commented that all of this added up to "some pretty fast footwork" on the part of Hall.

These swift developments left Stassen, Eisenhower's assistant on disarmament, stranded without public support, although he told a news conference yesterday he expects unnamed "other Republican leaders" to back his drive within a few days.

There was prompt speculation in Congress that his career with the administration may be near an end.

President Eisenhower himself was not publicly recorded. He has said he would be pleased and delighted to have Nixon on the ticket with him.

Hall told congressional Republicans he had White House assurance the President was standing firm on these statements.

Youths Injured In Early Morning Crash

Terry Starner, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Starner, Gardners R. 1, and Eugene Thomas, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Thomas, York Springs, are injured in an automobile accident early this morning. Both are patients in the Harrisburg General Hospital.

Sterner, driver of the car, is said to have falen asleep and the car went off the East Berlin-Dillsburg Road, south of Dillsburg, sideswiped a fence and crashed into a tree. The car is said to have been demolished.

Thomas suffered lacerations of the left leg and arm. He was discharged from the hospital after receiving treatment.

Starner was said to have x-rayed this morning to determine the nature of his injuries.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE NAMED IN LITTLESTOWN

Calvin W. Mummert, 34-year-old Orrtanna veteran of 10 years of service in the armed forces, was elected as the new chief of police for Littlestown Tuesday evening at the July meeting of the Littlestown Borough Council in the office of Secretary Roger J. Keefer.

Mummert's selection came in the form of a confirmation of action taken earlier by the counci's Safety committee. Mummert has been on duty since Monday.

Littlestown has been without a chief of police since June 30 when the resignation of Charles R. Everhart Jr. was effective. The former chief has accepted a position with the Pinkerton Detective Agency but continues to make his home in Littlestown. He was chief there since January, 1954.

Was Former MP

Mummert served 10 years in the Army and reached the rank of master sergeant. Part of his army duty was as a military policeman.

He has been employed recently as a civilian worker at the Letterkenny Ordnance Depot at Chambersburg.

Council set Mummert's pay at the same rate as that given Everhart. He will receive a salary of $3,000 a year with an $800 allowance for the use of his car.

Chief Mummert expects to move to Littlestown with his wife and two children as soon as he is able to secure a house.

CAIN RESIGNS SACB POSITION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry P. Cain, frequent critic of the administration's federal employe security program, resigned today as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board. The resignation is effective Aug. 9 when Cain's three-year term expires.

The resignation was announced at the White House which made public a brief letter from President Eisenhower accepting it, but expressing hope Cain would continue to serve until a successor qualimitted July 17.

Name Successor Soon

Eisenhower thanked Cain for his "conscientious and devoted service" and wished him the best of health and happiness in the years ahead.

The White House said a successor would be named soon.

With Congress about to recess, Cain's successor can take office without having to wait for Senate confirmation.

Cain, a former Republican senator from Washington, said in his letter of resignation that under a new law a retiring member of the board may serve an additional 1 months until a successor qualifies.

He added, however, that since he was named to a fixed term he was offering his resignation effective Aug. 9 "should you wish my assignment then to expire."

Growers Assemble At "Potato City"

COUDERSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The potato was king today as producers from all over the commonwealth gathered at nearby "Potato City" for their annual field days.

The meeting, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Co-operative Potato Growers Assn., opened with a host of activities for some 2,000 potato growers and their families.

Special emphasis at the meeting was placed on automation on the farm, stressing the efficiency of various types of potato production equipment for a Pennsylvania family-size farm.

The growers also will select their annual "Potato Blossom Queen" for the next year. Coronation is scheduled tomorrow, with State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning doing the crowning.

In other action the producers will select one of their number for honors of "Man of the Year" of state potato growers.

Carnegie Hall Is Sold For $5 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—Carnegie Hall, a musical landmark in midtown Manhattan, has been sold to the tune of about five million dollars.

The Glickman Corp., a big real estate firm, announced its purchase of the 65-year-old concert hall.

Louis J. Glickman, head of the firm, said the Philharmonic-symphony Society has an option to buy the hall from him. But he said the society must decide within four months. He pledged not to make any personal profit on the transaction.

The Philharmonic will remain at the hall at least until its lease expires in April 1959.

Schooner Malabar Ends 9,000-Mile Trip

CAMDEN, Maine (AP)—The two-masted schooner Malabar II is back in Camden after a 9,000 mile voyage to Spain and back.

Owner P. Exton Guckes of Camden, who sailed from Philadelphia April 1, brought his 41-foot craft into foggy Camden harbor last night.

With him were Archibald MacIntosh, president of Haverford College; Derek Vandusen of New York, Peter Blake of Camden and Stillman Kelley of Philadelphia.

MacIntosh and Vandusen joined ship in Spain, replacing Hodding Carter, Greenville, Miss., editor, and Edward Wallerstein of Richmond, Va., who made the westward crossing via the Azores.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Seton Tomb At Emmitsburg To Become Shrine: In the stained glass chapel situated in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Emmitsburg is the tomb of Mother Elizabeth Seton, who, it is probable, will be the first American saint to be canonized in the Catholic church.

A petition signed by 150,000 Catholic alumnae has been sent to Pope Pius and is waiting consideration in Rome. If it is taken up by the congregation of rites, Mother Seton will be named venerable, prior to receiving the titles of blessed and saint, if the claims which her sponsors offer are considered worthy by the investigating committee.

Mother Seton, founder of the Sisters of Charity and Mt. St. Joseph College for girls, was born in New York City.

Boy, 17, Given Patent By U. S. For Airplane: A 17-year-old Gettysburg youth has been granted a patent on a new type of helicopter airplane which he believes may revolutionize aviation.

The youth, Francis Bowling, who is a son of J. Albert Bowling, Waynesboro, and lives with an aunt, Miss Rose Gulden, East Middle street, was notified on Thursday afternoon by his patent attorney, Clarence A. O'Brien, of Washington, D. C., that his application, filed last October, has been granted.

A revolutionary departure from the present type of airplane is embodied in young Bowling's plans. By connecting the wings with the motor, the plane will be able to ascend and descend vertically.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech Subject In Headline Contest: The Gettysburg Battlefield, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and the scenes surrounding the dedication of the National Cemetery November 19, 1863, will be brought before newspaper men of the country by selection of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address as the subject for the 1932 headline writing contest conducted annually by the National Editorial Association.

All newspaper men in the county are eligible to compete in the contest. The idea is to tell all the facts contained in Lincoln's Gettysburg speech in a four-deck headline.

Add Nine Holes To Golf Course: An additional nine holes, hewn out of the mountains, will be opened to the public on August 3 as part of the Caledonia golf course, it is announced by Mrs. Robert C. Miller, owner and manager. The new course connects with the nine-hole course which has been in place since 1923 and provides a complete 18 hole course.

Retires After Sixteen Terms: After serving as president of the Adams county Sunday school association for sixteen years, M. E. Knouse, Arendtsville, refused the nomination for the seventeenth term at the 32nd annual convention held in the St. Mark's Lutheran church at Heidlersburg Tuesday and Wednesday.

J. B. Bushey, Biglerville, was elected president; the Rev. Dwight F. Putman, associate president, while Mr. Knouse was given the post of honorary president, Miss Lily Dougherty was re-elected corresponding secretary and treasurer; Miss Marian Walter, Biglerville, assistant corresponding secretary; Miss Mae Beamer, New Oxford, recording secretary.

The vice presidents are: Luther T. Cashman, Gettysburg R. 10; R. W. Bream, Gettysburg R. 4; Paul E. King, Littlestown; Clayton B. Yohe, Abbottstown; H. H. Starry, York Springs, and Roy Heckenluber, Biglerville.

County Roads Included In State System: A total of 230 miles of township roads in Adams county will be taken over for improvement and maintenance by the state highway department during the next three and half years, it was announced.

Twenty thousand miles of township roads in the state are included in Governor Pinchot's road improvement program and approximately 5,000 miles will be taken over each year.

Youth Finds Cannon Ball Lying In Field: One of the few cannon shells found on the battlefield in recent years was the prized possession today of Lawrence Singmaster, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Singmaster, Philadelphia, who is spending the summer with his aunt, Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, Seminary avenue.

One hundred and one representative Gettysburgians, members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary and Lions clubs went on record unanimously a joint meeting in the Blue Parrot tea room Monday evening that an exact reproduction of the famous Lincoln Memorial be procured if the cost is reasonable and the cast of the bronze monument is available.

Sliced pineapple may be dipped in a fritter batter and fried in deep fat. Serve sprinkled with confectioners' sugar for a luscious dessert.

Today's Talk

THE WILL TO LIVE

I like that line from Thoreau where he said: "This life is not for complaint, but for satisfaction." Complaints never do any good anyway. But to keep alive, with the will to live, that is lining up on the side of the superior ones in this world.

In the natural course of events we are born to victory, as I believe Emerson said. And we were "born to succeed, and not to fail," as Thoreau further said. That wise Kansas writer and newspaper man E. W. Howe wrote an inspiring little book in which he said that "Success is easier than failure." Here is an example of three outstanding men who had almost the same thoughts about life. And none of them ever met the other.

The will to live is something upon which you resolve. Never should you lose faith or despair of hope. Keep the fire of courage always burning, adding fuel when required. All through Nature is to be noted this strong urge to survive and to live. All Nature is endowed with rare courage. I note the birds in the cold and snow but they seem to offer no complaint, and most of them survive, again welcoming us in the spring and summer.

Human beings commit suicide but I have never heard of an animal doing so. The dog, however, courageously will give up his life, without a question or whimper, if one he loves is in danger and he thinks he can save that one. As a matter of fact, he thinks nothing of his own safety.

All about us are invisible voices. They are relayed from the Almight and if we pay attention we can be assured that they will be within our conscious hearing and we shall keep high in heart and never despair.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Think and Do It!"

Just Folks

ADVICE TO WIVES

Good wife, before you pack your grip
And start away for summer scenes,
Take this advice from me, I pray,
Because I know just what it means.
Don't hide a single thing he wears—
His socks, his underwear, his ties,
But take them from their hiding place
And put them right before his eyes.

This saves much trouble, you will learn.
Get out his collars, every one.
Take not for granted that he'll find
The things he wants when you are gone.
His letters then to you will be
Epistles giving all the news
And not mere statements: "I am well,
But where in thunder are my shoes?

18 NEW POLIO CASES TUESDAY FOR CHICAGO

By GLENN WOLF

CHICAGO (AP) — West of Chicago's Loop, where the wealth of LaSalle Street rapidly gives way to railroad yards, warehouses, factories and crowded low-rent housing, Chicagoans today fought the 13th day of a vicious battle against polio.

The near West Side has become the front line in the city's fight to contain and wipe out the unpredictable disease.

Eighteen new cases yesterday brought Chicago's 1956 total to 300, the highest in the nation. There have been eight deaths. Nearly half of the cases are in a near West Side rectangle encompassed by LaSalle Street on the east, 22nd Street on the south, Kostner Street on the west and North Avenue on the north.

Mixed Peoples

The neighborhood has nearly as many classes and races of people as it does types of buildings. Some live in up-to-date housing developments, while many live in substandard flats and rooming houses sandwiched between r u n d o w n stores and warehouses.

Board of Health officials call it "the high incidence area" and frankly admit they can't explain why it is. They report that youngsters in such areas usually develop more natural and earlier immunity to the disease, but it hasn't been so this year.

Eight Deaths

Since Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health, declared war on the outbreak 12 days ago, seven free inoculation centers have been in almost continuous operation. Additional centers will be opened by the City Welfare Department today to fight the enemy with the only weapon known — Salk vaccine. Another 44 new clinic sites will be opened within the next two weeks to give free shots.

The 300 cases and 8 deaths compared to 45 cases and 2 deaths in the same period a year ago. Bundesen said only 23 of the 300 cases had received Salk shots.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Vaughn and daughter, Linda and son, Dennis, and Bruce Beam, Cedarvile, Ohio, spent the weekend with Mr. Vaughn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, Emmitsburg Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mehring left Tuesday to spend a week with Mr. Mehring's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mehring at their cottage at Deep Creek Lake near Oakland, Md.

Mrs. David Little is spending two weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Winchester, Perryville, Md.

Miss Barbara Naill, Bridgeport, returned home Sunday from a two-weeks' stay at Camp Nawakwa.

Those who spent Sunday at Bay Ridge Shore were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Donatelli and Arthur Donatelli, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Donatelli, Hanover; Miss Patricia Toady, Baltimore; Frank Shaum, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teeter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaum and son, Michael, all of Taneytown.

Mrs. James Fiscus and daughter, Karen, and son, David, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fiscus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Johnston, York.

A/1C Donald C. Sell, Westover AFB, Mass., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Sell, Antrim St.

Mr. and Mrs Lloyd Rudinger and Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Manheim, Pa., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reid.

Mrs. William Unger, of Hanover, and brother, J. I. Suthin, of Odessa, Tex., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Becker, Taneytown R. D.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a wiener roast at Meadow View Park, near Silver Run, August 2. Members are asked to meet at the post home at 6 o'clock that evening.

Harvey Robinson, Pittsburgh, spent the weekend with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mauria Ray. Mrs. Robinson and daughter, Marjory, returned to Pittsburgh with the former after a week's visit with her mother.

Coal, Merchandise Income Is Higher

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Increased coal and merchandise traffic resulted in higher earnings for June and the first six months of 1956 as compared with similar periods last year, the Reading Co. reported yesterday.

June net income was reported at $907,879 or 48 cents a common share. The 1955 figure was $812,843, or 41 cents a share.

The carrier's financial statement listed net income for the first six months of 1956 at $5,524,000, $2.95 per share, compared with $4,961,000, or $2.54 a share for the corresponding period last year.

MAY BORROW $326,000

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Breezewood Telephone Co. of Breezewood yesterday was given Public Utility Commission authorization to borrow $326,000 from the Rural Electrification Administration to finance rehabilitation of its plant.

The utility serves 595 customers in Bedford and Fulton counties.

JORDAN, ISRAELI TROOPS FIRING ACROSS BORDER

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan and Israeli troops are firing at each other across the demarcation line west of Jerusalem and the situation is "very tense," a Jordan military spokesman said today.

The spokesman said United Nations observers rushed to the scene following an urgent request from the Jordanian authorities.

He said Israeli positions opened fire from small and medium automatic weapons and mortar on three Jordan villages this morning, and firing was still going on at 1 p.m. local time.

Preliminary reports from Jordanian army headquarters indicate the residents of the villages and Jordan national guardsmen have suffered some casualties.

Fired On Workers

(An Israeli army spokesman in Jerusalem said Jordanians started firing on Israeli workers in the settlement of Mevaseret Yerushalayim. He said Israeli frontier police returned the fire and there were no casualties.)

Only yesterday Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the U.N. truce supervisor in Palestine, called on Israel and Jordan to refrain from military action in the Mt. Scopus area northeast of Jerusalem. This followed a clash between Israeli and Jordan police on Mt. Scopus and the wounding of two Canadian truce observers in a mine explosion.

In Jerusalem the condition of the two truce observers was described as still serious, but doctors said there were good hopes for their recovery.

At Gaza on the Israeli-Egyptian border an Egyptian military spokesman said six Israeli soldiers crossed the demarcation line and fired on an Egyptian patrol. He said the Egyptians did not return the fire and no casualties were suffered.

Man Dies After Car Hits Pole

SOMERS POINT, N. J. (AP)—A 67-year-old Philadelphia man died in Shore Memorial Hospital last night from injuries suffered 10 hours earlier when his car struck a utility pole in Egg Harbor City.

Police said Benjamin Shulman, Philadelphia, went off the road along the White Horse Pike and smashed into the pole, breaking it off at the base. He was on his way from Philadelphia to Atlantic City at the time.

NEW ROADSIDE RESTS SELECTED

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department today designated sites for the erection of roadside rests in seven more Pennsylvania counties.

At the same time the department said work already is underway on roadside rests at six other locations chosen some weeks ago.

The seven new sites are located in Berks, Elk, Fulton, Juniata, Montour, Somerset and Westmoreland counties.

Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler said negotiations are currently underway for the acquisition by the state of the seven new sites.

There are now 29 roadside rests in the commonwealth.

The rests now under construction are located in:

Cameron County—on U. S. 120, between Emporium and St. Marys; Butler—U. S. 422, between Butler and Kittanning; Huntingdon— U. S. 522, about 15 miles south of Mt Union; Luzerne—U. S. 10, about 10 miles east of Berwick; Montgomery—U. S. 40, about 15 miles southwest of Washington.

Lawler said increasing use is being made of existing rest areas this year and he predicted one million motorists will use the facilities before the end of the summer.

Longevity: The regular U. S. Army has 114,000 men who have served for more than 10 years.

TROOPS WATCH NIGHT WARFARE

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP) — Trainees of Pennsylvania National Guard units at this 17,000-acre military reservation went back into the field today a good deal wiser on the way night battles are fought.

From dusk until nearly midnight last night they had balcony seats for a spectacular demonstration of artillery, machine guns, flares and mortar fire that set Lebanon county's blue mountain rocking.

Troops of the 111th Regimental Combat Team, many of whom saw their first night firing, got a realistic taste of after-dark combat.

First on the docket today was the cleaning of weapons used in the ear-splitting performance last night in which more than $5,000 worth of artillery shells, machine gun ammunition and flares were used.

After that the troops moved out to transition ranges to practice rifle fire and general handling of weapons.

The artillery for last night's demonstration was provided by the 166th Field Artillery Battalion with support from aircraft, heavy mortars of the 111th and machine gun fire from the 11th.

Johnny Summerlin, Detroit heavyweight, scored 19 knockouts in his first 34 fights.

FACE CHOICE ON HOUSING BILL

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members faced a take-it-or-leave-it choice today on a housing bill limiting new public housing construction to the 35,000 units a year sought by President Eisenhower.

Leaders predicted passage of a proposal by Rep. Widnall (R-NJ) aimed at placating foes of federally aided, low-rent housing for low income groups.

The House Rules Committee, which acts as a legislative traffic cop, has cleared housing for a floor vote only under procedures aimed at allowing passage of the Widnall bill or none at all.

Aids Housing

Besides the disputed public housing provision, the bill would authorize money to continue a number of other housing programs.

Other versions of omnibus housing bills have been (1) proposed by Eisenhower, (2) passed by the Senate and (3) approved by the House Banking Committee headed by Rep. Spence (D-Ky).

The chief difference is over public housing, with Eisenhower proposing 35,000 units a year up to a total of 500,000 plus 75,000 units especially for the elderly, and the Spence bill calling for 60,000 units a year for three years including 10,000 a year for older folks.

Spahn Nails Giants To Wall Gets Homer In 6th; Brooklyn Batters Redlegs; Phillies Win

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Warren Spahn, the southpaw veteran tabbed "over the hill" by some folks a year ago, now is within seven victories of becoming the National League's first 200-game winner in a decade. And if the Milwaukee Braves can keep up the part of a pennant winner, it may be a breeze for their one-time ace.

Milwaukee's championship machine continued to hum last night as the Braves came from behind after being held hitless for five innings to nail the New York Giants 4-3 with a two-run ninth. Spahn, 35, went all the way, homering for Milwaukee's first hit in the sixth.

Johnny Logan's two-out homer broke it up in the ninth and provided the only "fireworks" between the Braves and Ruben Gomez, the running right-hander who had fled from Joe Adcock in their hit-and-run affair in Milwaukee a week ago.

Amoros, Snider Star

Brooklyn's third-place world champs battered the runner-up Cincinnati Redlegs 10-5 as Sandy Amoros drove in five runs with two triples and Duke Snider batted home three with his 22nd and 23rd home runs.

Philadelphia took over sixth place from Chicago, defeating St. Louis 7-3 while the Cubs were losing to Pittsburgh 6-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees' lead "dwindled" to 8½ games as the Chicago White Sox beat the Bombers 11-5 while the second-place Cleveland Indians coasted past Washington 11-0. Boston defeated Kansas City 3-2, on Mickey Vernon's ninth-inning home run. Detroit and Baltimore split a twi-night pair, the Tigers winning 9-7, then losing 11-5.

Homer For Dutsy Rhodes

The Giants, who have lost six straight and 15 of 18, got a two-run homer from Dusty Rhodes in the first, and back-to-back doubles by Don Mueller and Red Schoendienst for their 3-0 lead.

Gomez had a four-hitter going into the ninth, when Hank Aaron opened with a triple and scored on a double play after a walk to Joe Adcock. That tied it and set up Logan's winning shot. Aaron, who reclaimed the NL bat lead with a .338 average, also singled and scored in the seventh.

Gomez, now 5-10, had no trouble with Adcock, whom he hit with a pitch in Milwaukee. In his first appearance since the end of a three-day suspension, Ruben retired the heavy-hitting first baseman on a ground ball, a called third strike and a foul pop before losing him in the ninth.

Amoros, who also doubled, broke up a 3-all tie with a bases-loaded triple in the sixth for the Brooks, who then added four in the seventh for a happy return to chummy Ebbets Field. Snider had accounted for their first three runs with his homers off loser Johnny Klippstein. Sal Maglie won it.

Curt Simmons, his sore arm trouble apparently a thing of the past, evened his record at 6-6 with a third victory over the Cardinals. The lefty also doubled home two runs as the Phils broke a 1-all tie in the sixth by getting to Wilmer Mizell for six runs on four hits, a walk and hit batsmen.

Roberto Clemente batted in four runs for the Pirates with a triple, home run and sacrifice fly as Ron Kline won his ninth with relief help. Bob Rush lost it.

15th For Pierce

Billy Pierce won his 15th to become the majors' winningest pitcher, handing the Yankees their fifth straight defeat at Comiskey Park.

Doby and Minnie Minoso each homered for the Chisox, driving in six runs between them. Gil McDougald, Bill Skowron and Bob Cerv homered for New York.

Mike Garcia three-hit Washington while the Indians ran wild with seven runs on three hits and five walks in the eighth inning.

Vernon's homer followed a walk to Ted Williams, the only pass given up by rookie Wally Burnette who had three-hit Boston after allowing a first-inning run. Ike Delock won it in relief.

The Tigers and Orioles traded three home runs apiece in the opener with Charley Maxwell's two-run shot icing it in the sixth for reliefer Steve Gromek. The Birds came back with five runs in the first inning of the nightcap against a wild Bob Miller with the help of Willie Miranda's bases-loaded triple.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

CHICAGO — Howdy Baby ($10.-20) set an American turf record for the mile and a sixteenth, going the distance in 1:41 4-5 in winning the $5,000 Marcabala purse at Arlington Park.

OCEANPORT, N.J. — Light 'N Lovely ($12.50) scored by three lengths in the feature at Monmouth Park.

NEW YORK — Reneged ($4.50) held off the fast closing Lead Scout to win the Middle Bay purse at Jamaica.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Binghamton Triplets today were only a single percentage point out of first place in the Eastern League, thanks to the extra-inning batting of Dick Sanders and Jerry Kudajeski.

Sanders tripled in the 10th at Syracuse, then was driven home by Kudajeski's single to give the Trips a 4-3 victory over the chiefs.

The Trips trail the first-place Schenectady Blue Jays by a half-game and by one percentage point. No other games were scheduled last night.

Binghamton hurler Johnny James got his sixth victory in as many decisions. He rescued starter Jerry Buchanan in the eighth when the Chiefs tied the score with a pair of runs. Lefty Ted Richardson, who followed Gerry Davie and Tom Van Remmen, was the loser.

The title-winning Moose outfit concluded its Little League schedule Tuesday evening by defeating the Rotary 9-2.

Each team secured only three hits but the Moose made the most of no less than 21 walks by Carl Johnson. Johnson's wildness resulted in 126 piches as compared to only 79 by Gary Fair and Greg Maitland.

All scoring for the Moose came via the free passes, and four runs in the third clinched the game.

Following the game, Moose players and their parents held a picnic at the Recreation Park. The squad presented a wallet to Coach Bobby Miller and a necktie to Assistant Coach Bill Decker.

SEIXAS, BROUGH PICKED TO WIN TENNIS TITLES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 57th annual Pennsylvania State Lawn Tennis Tournament is running true to form. All the seeded players still are in action as the show moves into today's third round with Vic Seixas and Louise Brough the favorites in the men's and women's divisions.

Seixas takes on Myron Franks, Los Angeles, today as the result of a hard-earned victory yesterday over Jon Douglass, San Francisco, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Franks moved up on a 3-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Arthur Andrews, a leading junior player from Iowa City.

Most of the seeded men had to play two rounds yesterday as they were in Chicago opening day, Monday, competing in the U.S. Clay Court championships. They included second-seeded Art Larson, third-ranked Gil Shea, fourth-rated Sammy Giammalva and sixth-seeded Grant Golden. All prevailed, although Larson, Shea and Giammalva each dropped sets in the doing.

In the women's division, Miss Brough, who coasted to a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Merion, Pa., meets Karol Fageros, Miami, Fla., in today's third round. Miss Fageros won 6-3, 6-2 over Katherine Hubbell, Conway, N.H.

Althea Gibson, New York Negro star, seeded second to Miss Brough, came in from Chicago and won two matches yesterday. She eliminated Jeralyn Shepherd, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1, and Beverly Tolan, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-3. She meets Mary Ann Mitchell, San Leandro, Calif., who advanced by defeating Mrs. Laussat Clement, Merion, Pa., 6-2, 6-3.

Rec Children To Use College Pool

Arrangements have been completed by the Recreation Association with Henry T. Bream, athletic director at Gettysburg College, for the use of the college swimming pool three mornings per week until the summer playground season ends on August 17.

Children desiring to swim in the pool will be required to sign up at the Recreation Park. The first morning for swimmers will be Thursday from 10 to 12 o'clock.

It was pointed out no organized instruction will be given but either Don Bickel, Howard Shoemaker or Mrs. James Tarman, members of the Recreation staff, will be present during the periods of swimming.

Elks vs. American Legion

The league leading Elks were thwarted in their bid to clinch the Big Little League title Tuesday evening when the second-place Cities Service took a 5-2 decision before a large crowd. Both defeats this season for the Elks have come at the hands of the Servicemen.

Tonight the Elks can clinch the title via a win over the American Legion. However, a loss will mean the Cities Service and American Legion will be required to play their postponed game Thursday night to determine the final standing. The postponed game will not be played if the Elks win the title tonight.

Both teams appeared jittery for Tuesday evening's contest and errors played a prominent role in the outcome. Cities Service took a 3-0 lead on two runs in the first frame and one in the second. The Elks picked up a pair in the fourth and muffed a big opportunity in the fifth when they loaded the bases but couldn't score.

Ronnie Asper, Cities Service hurler, was tagged for nine hits but escaped from the tight spots. He led his team's attack with two singles and a double. Sidney Weikert and John McCleaf each had a single and double for the Elks.

Mills Will Coach Olympic Soccer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—America's Olympic soccer team will be coached by Jimmy Mills, coach of the Philadelphia Uhriks, American League champion soccer team.

Appointment of Mills was announced yesterday by Ed Sullivan, Philadelphia, president of the U.S. Soccer Football Assn. The 60-year-old Mills, a member of the Soccer Hall of Fame, started playing soccer in his native Scotland and came to the United States in 1922.

Mills is scheduled to leave this country with the team in mid-October and return in mid-December. The team plans an exhibition tour before and after the Olympic event.

ARCHIE MOORE FAVORED OVER JAMES PARKER

By JACK HAND

TORONTO (AP) — Archie Moore, self-crowned heavyweight king, is a "shoo-in" favorite to whip unranked James J. Parker of Toronto tonight in an outdoor bout that only the promoters recognize as a title fight.

Promoter Jack Solomons of London talks glibly of a crowd of 19,000 and a $140,000 gate for the 15-round match at Maple Leaf Stadium, the Toronto baseball Park. But more cautious estimates slice the house to 12,000 and receipts to $100,000. The forecast was for widely scattered showers and late clearing.

The scrap will not be carried on radio or television in the United States.

May Be 42

Solomons' plush promotion threatens to outdo the action in the ring. A 35-piece bagpipe band will pipe the men into the ring as they walk over a rented red velvet carpet. White dinner jacket and black tie will be the accepted dress in the front rows.

Moore claims he is 39, but some books carry his age as 42. At any event, he is a well-preserved veteran of 154 fights with a 129-20-5 record. Since he was knocked out in the ninth round by Rocky Marciano last September in Rocky's last fight, Moore has won all of his nine starts. In his last outing, June 5 at London, he successfully defended his world lightheavy crown by stopping Yolande Pompet on a TKO in the 10th round.

There is a slight discrepancy about Parker's age, too. He claims he is 26 but some records show him to be 28. In 36 bouts he has a 27-5-4 record. In the last three years he has had five fights. He lost a decision to Nino Valdes in 1954, fought draws with Earl Walls and Ewart Potgiter, the South African giant, in 1955. This year he outpointed Johnny Arthur in 12 rounds and stopped Heinz Neuhaus, former European champ, in three rounds.

LOGART TRYING FOR 10TH WIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Isaac Logart, one-time sparmate of Kid Gavilan, tries for his 10th straight ring victory tonight against Jed Black, an up-and-coming welterweight prior to serving a 2-year Army hitch.

Logart, a product of Camaguey, Cuba, Gavilan's hometown, probably will be better than a 3-1 favorite in the nationally televised 10 rounder, ABC, 9 p.m. EST, at Chicago Stadium. He is rated No. 3 among welterweight contenders in the latest Ring Magazine rankings.

Black, an aggressive fighter who wades in swinging, has an overall record of 29-2-1 and is credited with 15 knockouts.

Logart, 22, has many of Gavilan's ring mannerisms. He's a fast two-fisted bruiser and can switch to a southpaw style. In 46 victories, 18 have come by kayoes. He has lost five fights and was held to draws in five others.

JACKIE BURKE DEFEATS KROLL FOR BIG TITLE

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—The victory was Jackie Burke's in the 38th Professional Golfers Assn. Championship—a whopping big one that proved this young man from Texas finally has become the great golfer everyone said he could be.

But the story might be Ted Kroll's—a story of utter frustration.

It must have brought a lot of satisfaction to the 33-year-old Burke, once tabbed as the "perennial rookie of the year," when he beat Kroll 3 and 2 in yesterday's tough 36-hole final and won his second major tournament within a year.

In Exclusive Group

He was threatening to quit tournament golf and stay at home with his family in Houston before he broke through to win the Masters last April. Now he's established with Sam Snead as the only players who ever won these two major titles in the same season.

Burke still says he's going to curtail his playing activities. He has two children, is expecting a third, and operates a flourishing real estate business in Texas and Florida with Jimmy Demaret.

But what about Kroll, the deadpanned guy who blew chances to win the two most important championships in America in one year?

A little more than a month ago the 37-year-old Kroll, who never has won one of the big championships, had a chance to capture the National Open just by shooting pars on the last few holes. He "blew" to a tremendous 7 on the 7th hole and finished four strokes behind winner Cary Middlecoff.

Tremendous String

Yesterday he was 3-up on Burke after 12 holes and 2-up at the end of a morning round in which he shot a great 35-33—68 over the 6,634-yard, par 36-35—71 Blue Hill course.

Then came a tremendous string of birdies by Burke on the front nine in the afternoon and Ted found himself unable to match it.

Burke credited his afternoon comeback to "an amazing round of chipping" plus a few other factors that made a tremendous difference in this head-to-head match play. Three down again after the 19th hole, Jackie suddenly regained his birdie-shooting touch and reeled off five subpar scores on six holes. That put him two up and he never let Kroll off the hook.

DEMOCRATS' BILL FOR AEC IS DEAD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 400-million-dollar experimental atomic power program sponsored by Democrats was dead today — smothered by an avalanche of Republican votes in the House.

It would have launched the Atomic Energy Commission on a long-range program of building expensive reactors to develop power for government installations. The idea was to demonstrate the feasibility of producing commercial power from the atom.

Democrats who sponsored it and pushed it through the Senate by a 49-40 vote contended that only the government could afford the risks and the costs of such a program. They said it was needed to pave the way for eventual widespread use of atomic power and to keep the United States in the lead in the world race in that field.

Listen To GOP

Republicans countered that the AEC already was making progress in the commercial power field, that the United States was ahead in the world atomic power race, and that to force the new program on the AEC would jeopardize the weapons programs which have top priority.

The House listened to the Republicans and sent the bill back to the Senate-House Atomic Comittee, with 176 Republicans and 27 Democrats favoring that action and 174 Democrats and 17 Republicans opposing it.

Immediately after the final vote, the House shouted through a bill appropriating $1,938,700,000 to the AEC to finance its planned programs — but not the experimental power plants — for the current fiscal year. The money bill now is before the Senate.

Civil Defense Test Will Close Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many desperate problems created by last Friday's mock bombing of the United States were reported taking "manageable form" today as civil defense Operation Alert continued.

The emergency press headquarters at a secret location more than 100 miles from Washington closed down Monday after 126 formal announcements in four days.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming Jr. said the great majority of the 100,000 government officials and employes evacuated from Washington would remain at their more than 30 relocation sites until the drill ends late Wednesday.

Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson praised this year's exercise as the best yet, but said he wants to inject more realism into the next Operation Alert.

Peterson flew into Washington for an hour yesterday from his hideaway operation headquarters to appear on a radio show.

CHASTISE THE MACHINE

The newspaper added "we shall chastise the machine for its willful neglect, especially since one of these two graduates is a former reporter and proof reader for the Daily News and hence the machine should have known better."

ASKS REALISTIC "APPRAISAL" OF PIKE TOLL HIKE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chairman F. Franklin McSorley of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has called for a "realistic appraisal" of truck toll rates charged on the 408-mile superhighway.

McSorley made the statement as the five-member commission went into its regular meeting with attention expected to center around the toll question and a Justice Department ruling sripping the agency of much of its responsibilities.

"I intend to recommend to the commission that we carry out the provisions of the (Baker) report in reference to more realistic truck rates," McSorley promised.

The chaiman referred to a survey report submitted last week by the engineering firm of Michael Baker Jr., Rochester, Pa., citing an "urgent need" for a reduction in truck toll rates on the turnpike.

The firm also recommended against any increase in passenger car tolls "now or in the near future."

Says Trucks Are Lifeblood

"I can only recommend—I can't set them myself," McSorley said. "I can only hope the others agree there should be a realistic appraisal of truck tolls because that is the real problem."

He described the trucks as the "lifeblood of the turnpike" and explained that a dropping of tolls for these vehicles would entice them back to using the toll road.

Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen last week in his ruling gave the State Highways Department responsibility for maintaing the turnpike.

The Republican state leadership labeled the move a "cold blooded patronage grab."

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, described the ruling as a move to "allow the Democratic patronage machine to take over 50 turnpike jobs in the presidential year."

The commission has maintained the roadway since it was opened in 1940.

The Democrats have a 3-2 voting majority on the present turnpike commission.

Withholds Comment

McSorley withheld comment on the switch of power.

State Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler, who asked Cohen for the ruling, said he did not know when it would be enforced.

He said its enforcement was "up to the Turnpike Commission and the attorney general."

Sen. Democratic leader Dent, long an outspoken opponent of the commission operation, said Cohen's ruling makes the agency a "mere figurehead."

"If the ruling is effective it will further relegate the commission with little or no powers left into a figurehead administration," Dent said, adding:

"It points up the need for a legislative review of the situation."

Denies Political Tieup

Meanwhile, on another controversial facet of the turnpike business, a backer of the Keystone Shortway denied that politics in any way plays a part in the proposed cross state highway.

Z. H. Confair, president of the Keystone Shortway Assn., said "this is not a Democratic project but a cooperative project between Democrats and Republicans."

His statement came in reply to U.S. Rep. Richard M. Simpson Simpson said at Huntingdon over the weekend that construction of the shortway, to run from Sharon to Stroudsburg, could bankrupt the present turnpike system.

"I note that in describing Simpson's district the story reporting his speech left out Snyder and Union counties," Confair commented.

"I am sure that his constituents in those counties, which will benefit by the shortway, don't consider it a boondoggle and resent his statement."

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — The customers' register at Bert Gorham s gas station contains names from seven foreign countries and 46 states.

One of the missing states is Connecticut because, Bert says, he's not interested in any home state signatures until "one of those real Connecticut beauty queens comes along."

And he's just never had a customer from South Dakota.

Turnpike Extension Ready September 1st

HARRISBURG (AP) — Another 30 mile stretch of the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike will be opened by Sept. Franklin McSorley said Tuesday.

"You can say we will open the road from the Mahoning Valley Interchange to the Wilkes-Barre Interchange by Sept. 1—I have all the confidence in the world we will make it," he told a reporter.

About 40 miles of the 110-mile leg was opened last November. The extension runs from near Norristown to near Scranton. Traffic is now using the southern portion as far north of Emerald, Lehigh County.

Opening of the Mahoning Valley-Wilkes-Barre section will leave another 25 miles north to Scranton to be completed and another 15 south of Mahoning Valley to Emerald.

A "late 1956" opening date had been set for the entire northeastern extension when construction began in March 1954. However, the latest completion date for the entire link now is the end of next January.

BEDTIME BLUES

MENOMINEE, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. William McKenney looked almost everywhere before calling out state police to look for her 4-year-old daughter, Kay Ann. The place she forgot to look was in the child's bed.

"I didn't look there because she never goes to bed unless we put her there," Mrs. McKenney apologized to weary police officers.

KEYS TO THEFT

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A frightened housewife telephoned lice shortly after midnight and reported the keys had just been stolen from the family car.

"The thief can't be far away. I just heard the car door slam," she added.

Two officers rushed to the scene and after an intensive search of the area found the keys — in the woman's purse.

STATES RIGHTS MOVEMENT IS OPENED AGAIN

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The States Rights movement glowed with the flicker of a new, uncertain life today—eight years after it swept four Southern states from the Democratic party.

In 1948 the States Rights party sought to prevent either the Democratic or Republican ticket from winning a majority of electoral votes and thus toss the presidential election into the House of Representatives.

The States Rights ticket was headed by J. Strom Thurmond, then the governor of South Carolina, and the late Mississippi Gov. Fielding Wright. It carried only four states, each in the Deep South—Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina —and Harry S. Truman scored a decisive Democratic victory over Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican standard bearer.

"Balance Of Power"

This year reports have it that the States Righters again hope for the South to win a "balance of power" among presidential electors — enough of a showing in the Electoral College so that neither the Democrats nor the Republicans would have the necessary majority.

The law then calls for the presidential election to be thrown into the U.S. House of Representatives, where each state would have a single vote.

W. B. Fontaine, Jackson attorney, declined to comment on this yesterday when the Steering Committee for Mississippians for States Rights held a meeting here. Fontaine is chairman of the steering committee.

Hurls Race Into House

But Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan of Jackson, one of the originators of the 1956 States Rights movement in Mississippi, has said the ultimate goal is to hand over to the House of Representatives the job of naming the President.

Fontaine announced plans for a presidential elector slate in Mississippi sympathetic toward segregation but pledged to neither the Democratic or Republican nominee. He said the slate would be composed of "men and women who stand uncompromisingly for states rights, constitutional government and segregation of the races."

He declined to say whom the presidential electors would support for president except to say his group wants Mississippi voters to have "some choice other than the lesser of two evils" — the nominees of the two major parties.

DISCRIMINATION COMPLAINTS ARE BEING PROBED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's new Fair Employment Practices Commission is investigating 19 specific complaints of discrimination in hiring practices.

"None of these cases has advanced beyond the investigative stage," emphasized executive Director Elliott Shirk. He disclosed the figure following a meeting of the commission yesterday.

"We are on the first, elementary steps trying to establish if the complaints come within our jurisdiction and to see if any justify further proceedings," he said.

Before the commission goes ahead with its first case it will "thoroughly examine" the facts.

"And also under the law we are obliged to spend a considerable period of time on conciliation and persuasive methods toward adjustment," he pointed out.

Separate Complaints From Quiries

After such steps the commission could call a hearing with the employer present to hear the charges against him.

Shirk separated these 19 complaints from a "score" of queries concerning "interpretation of the law, particularly the age clauses."

Progress made on investigating the 19 complaints was outlined to the commission members and Shirk described their attitude as "very interested and concerned."

He added that two fieldmen of the commission were now looking into several cases in the Altoona-Johnstown-Pittsburgh areas.

At the meeting Shirk presented a report giving the "overall prospects of the commissions work" and outlining the field commission operation.

Shirk's report showed that 38,000 employers within the state, each with more than 12 employes, are under jurisdiction of the council by terms of the 1955 law. They embrace some 3,120,000 workers.

The commission has requested office space in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to open regional offices but Shirk estimated it will be "some time" before they are officially established.

At the meeting the commission officially approved the form and content of an 8½ by 11 inch poster detailing major parts of the law which must be displayed conspicuously by every employer coming under commission jurisdiction. The poster is on the way to the printer and will be distributed throughout the state as soon as available.

ASSAULT CHARGE AGAINST THIEF

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police Chief Howard C. Shook of Middletown Twp., Bucks County, was held in $500 bail for action by the grand jury last night on assault and battery charges brought by a Levittown, Pa., physician.

Shook pleaded not guilty to the Justice of the Peace Frederick A. Holly.

Shook was arrested last June 25 on the complaint of Dr. Glenn W. Bricker, who said the police chief the day before had manhandled him in removing him from one area of the Langhorne Auto Speedway.

The physician said he had gone to the restricted area with a camera to obtain photographic evidence that Lower Bucks County policemen were serving illegally at the track.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — Miss Susan Ann Behney returned home Tuesday from Chicago where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald King. Donald is with the Army on Montrose Beach on Lake Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. King announced the birth of a daughter on June 9 and have named her Kim Lee. Mrs. King is the former Jean Meals.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cutshall and daughter, Darlene, of St. Thomas, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin. Mr. Martin was admitted to the Harrisburg Hospital on Sunday and was accompanied to the hospital by Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Cutshall and Miss Ruth Croft.

Martha Hikes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hikes, returned to her home after spending 10 days with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Marte in Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Marte are visiting relatives in the community. Mrs. Marte is the former Anne Kauffman, sister of Mrs. Calvin Leer.

Miss Kathryn O'Boyle was a Sunday dinner guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hamm of Wiltshire Hills, York.

Miss Lura Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess, has returned home from a 2,300-mile trip. It was a Thomas Cook conducted tour. They visited Gaspe and the Province of Quebec.

Mrs. Murray Jacobs, York Springs, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lance Jacobs, and children, of Hanover, have returned home after a visit to Wildwood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin returned home on Friday from the home of her late parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Croft, Mercersburg R. D. Mrs. Martin's sister, Miss Ruth Croft, accompanied them home and will spend some time at the Martin home.

Mrs. Elda Peters remains a patient in the Hanover Hospital. She submitted to major surgery and has been a patient for more than four weeks.

Lewis Rifenberry was admitted to the Hanover Hospital on Tuesday evening for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Taylor left last week for Jacksonville, Fla., where they will visit their son, William, who is in the U. S. Navy and is stationed there.

Mrs. Reynolds Helman was found unconscious by her son in the living room of her home on Sunday. Later in the day she was taken to the Carlisle Hospital in the York Springs ambulance.

The members of the Latimore 4-H Stitchers and Modelers held a meeting at the home of Gayle Gulden. Discussions included transportation to day camp and a bake sale. The president appointed Lois Hoffman chairman for the advertising committee. A "show and tell" was given by Esther Harbold and Gayle Gulden. They showed slides of the Cloisters, the History Club trip and the Biglerville and York Springs May Day dances. The president then turned the meeting over to Miss Florence Finger who demonstrated the sewing of seams, darts and tucks. They were to have all those done on their garments until the next meeting. Games were played and refreshments served.

The following children were baptized in connection with the worship service on Sunday morning at the York Springs Lutheran Church: Linda Arlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Grove; Michael Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rupp Jr., and Linda Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy.

Heavy Flow Of Turnpike Traffic On Delaware Span

HARRISBURG (AP)—Latest traffic counts by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission show steadily increasing use of the new Dela-Pennsylvania and New Jersey superhighways.

A report presented to the commission yesterday placed the mid-July use of the 25-million-dollar span at about 70 per cent of the 14,000 vehicles a day estimate by consulting engineers.

"We are now getting an average of about 10,000 a day but to maintain that we must get 18,000 to 19,000 over the weekends," said Chairman G. Franklin McSorley. The bridge was opened May 25.

The report said that each two-week period checked showed a steady upgrade in the number of vehicles traveling eastward. During the first week of operation the average was 3,00 from Pennsylvania to New Jersey and 4,900 from New Jersey to Pennsylvania.

"New Jersey's figure has been fairly constant but ours is going up slowly," McSorley said.

Truck Traffic Is Law

"However, the truck traffic is very disappointing," he added. "We've never had any more than 230 trucks in any one period. The heavy trucks are a complete loss. The average is only for a week. In fact, we get more of these coming into Pennsylvania from New Jersey, about twice as many on the average."

The chairman further described the truck figures as "very, very disappointing and way below estimates."

Failure of actual use of the Delaware River Extension to meet advance estimates led to the present financial difficulties and proposed toll changes.

The bridge was the last link of the 33-mile Delaware River Extension starting at Valley Forge, outside Philadelphia.

The new figures are the first encouraging words the commission has had on use of the new section.

Commission Loses Power

In another development, Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen told a televeision audience (WTPA) last night that the commission actually never operated within the terms of the law governing its powers.

"Operation of the turnpike within the terms of law have never been indulged in," Cohen said.

He said he made a formal ruling last week stripping the commission of many of its responsibilities "as a matter of law—not policy."

He said he never did confer with Gov. Leader or any top administration officials on the ruling transferring many of the commission duties to the state highways department.

"The democratic concept of the commission provided that it act as a financing agency and the maintenance and repairs," Cohen said.

Intensify Activities

Meanwhile, the commission directed its safety division to intensify its activities.

McSorley told the commissioners that "we must continue to stress safety more than ever before."

A report covering the first four months of 1956 showed that the number of fatalities increased from 1 to 16 over the same period of 1955.

Figured on 10 million vehicle miles, the actual fatality rate for the same period dropped from 4.3 to 4.2 because of an 11 per cent increase in mileage.

The number of vehicles using the turnpike was up 23 per cent over the first four months of last year.

Stassen, Who Lives In Last House On A Dead-End Street, May Have Reached End Of Political Career

By JAMES MARLW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who lives here in the last house on a dead-end street, doesn't know today whether that will also be the permanent address of his political future. This must be one of his loneliest days.

Not a single Republican leader has stepped up to back his proposal that Vice President Nixon be brushed aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter as President Eisenhower's running mate. 2

The White House, where he has his office as special assistant to Eisenhower on disarmament, made it clear Stassen is not getting any support there. Republicans in Congress have called on him to resign his job.

Herter Favors Nixon

And even Herter, after a telephone talk with the vice president, not only did not support Stassen but said he would nominate Nixon. Herter did, however, say he would accept the vice presidential nomination if Eisenhower wanted him.

The professional Republican politicians, who thought they had the way greased to present the voters this year with the same 1952 winning combination of Eisenhower and Nixon, have reason to be sore at Stassen.

He not only caused them trouble, if only temporarily, but also called sensational attention to the fact that not everyone wants Nixon. It's possible the fire Stassen tried to start may have spread by convention time. It doesn't look like it now.

Has No Support

Not even one member of that unnamed group of "Republican leaders" who, Stassen said, shared his views, has come out in public to stand beside him. Politicians pay a penalty for causing their party trouble.

Stassen may have to pay the penalty of being forced into political limbo from now on. Which raises a question: Why did he do it? He said he did it for the good of the country and out of "loyalty" to Eisenhower.

If this was Stassen's only reason—since he's been around long enough to know a bad reaction might ruin him—then it took sheer guts and unselfishness to do what he did.

Is Ambitious Man

But the 49-year-old Stassen, who never seems to stop talking and has been giving Republicans and Democrats alike advice from the sidelines for years, has been an immensely ambitious man.

He's had his eyes steadily on the presidency since he was in his 30s. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1944, 1948 and 1952. And as late as July 9 he made it known he would like to be a candidate this year if Eisenhower didn't run.

Judging from the reaction he has received so far, his attempt to cut Nixon's political throat was not shrewd. Perhaps he had assurance of support from Republicans who got cot gold feet when the reaction set in.

"Once Too Often"

At the moment he looks like a politician who stuck his neck out once too often and had it cut off. And yet, if Stassen's presidential hopes for the future were involved in his action, then what he did was logical enough.

If now the Republican ticket is Eisenhower and Nixon, and it loses, Stassen will have some claim on party leadership through his foresight in saying Nixon's candidacy would hinder Eisenhower—even though Stassen isn't predicting defeat of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

If Nixon were re-elected and served out four years, he would be the party's most likely candidate for the presidency in 1960. Stassen then would hardly seem to have a look-in. He's no political pal of Nixon.

No Chance For Stassen

If Nixon were re-elected and succeeded to the presidency through the death of Eisenhower, he'd almost certainly be the party candidate in 1960. Stassen would seem to have no chance at all then.

Stassen's best hope for his own presidential ambitions would seem to lie in the elimination of Nixon now. If not now, then perhaps never.

Yet, in spite of the cold shoulder he has received inside his own party from the professionals, there are probably many independent and Republican anti-Nixon voters who feel grateful to Stassen for trying to get Nixon nixed.

DUROCHER GETS THREE OFFERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher has rejected managerial offers from two National League clubs and has had a feeler from a third club.

The former manager of the New York Giants declined last night to say whether the feeler came from the Cleveland Indians, who reportedly offered him a five-year contract at $100,000 a year. He refused point blank to identify the two National League clubs.

"I'll tell you this, though," he said in reference to the direct offers, "neither of them was from Milwaukee."

Durocher said his first offer came last winter and the second one came only a few months ago. The belief is that the winter offer came from either St. Louis or Pittsburgh and the summer bid from Chicago, although reports circulated in Philadelphia that Leo had been in touch with owner Bob Carpenter of the Phillies.

In New York on business in his capacity as an executive with the National Broadcasting Company, Leo declared the only thing that might cause him to reconsider would be a "hell of an offer that I simply can't refuse."

All-Stars Will Drill Thursday Evening At 6

Gettysburg's Little League All-Stars, who will represent the league in the area playoffs to be held next week at Newville, will hold their initial practice session Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at Gettysburg College.

The All-Stars will also meet a team of Arendtsville youngsters on the latter's field Saturday afternoon to tune up for the tournament.

The Rotary and Glenn L. Bream Garage team will play a regularly scheduled Little League game Thursday evening but all players from those teams who were selected to the All-Stars are to forego the scheduled game and report at the college field for practice.

Bobby Miller, who piloted the Moose to the title this year, will manage the All-Star squad. They oppose the Carlisle Americans next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the opening of the Newville tournament.

Named Wrestling Coach At Albright

READING, Pa. (AP)—Gerald M. Berger, 28, a member of the West Reading High School faculty, has been named wrestling coach at Albright College. It will be the first year of varsity wrestling at Albright.

A 1946 graduate of Clearfield High School, Barger was a varsity wrestler at Millersville State Teachers College, from which he dwas graduated in 1952. Married to the former Mary Smith of Lancaster, he is the father of three children.

PUBLIC SALE
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

by its Department of Property & Supplies, under authority of Act. 194, approved October 18, 1955, and under its Sale No. 888 will at 9:00 a.m., EST, or 10:00 a.m., DST, Tuesday, August 14, 1956, in the Office of N. D. Culbertson, Board Secretary, Room 168, State Capitol, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offer at Public Sale to the highest bidder a tract of land situate in the Township of Butler, County of Adams and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in a public road on a line of Frank Newell and Herbert H. & Jesse F. Deckert, which point is ascertained by measuring along a line in said road from an angle in said road at the intersection of the land of Bert Carey and Frank Newell, south 35 degrees west a distance of 895 feet; thence from said beginning point so ascertained by a line, south 39 degrees 45 minutes east a distance of 1,450 feet to an iron pin; thence south 5 degrees 30 minutes west a distance of 290 feet to an iron pin; thence by a line south 43 degrees west a distance of 607 feet to an iron pin on a line of land now or formerly of Joseph Lopp; thence along said last mentioned line south 56 degrees east a distance of 830 feet to an iron pin on the line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad; thence along said railroad north 39 degrees 30 minutes east a distance of 405 feet to an iron pin; thence continuing along said railroad north 35 degrees 45 minutes east 1,410 feet to an iron pin in an abandoned road; thence along said abandoned road and land now or formerly of Allen Thoman, north 36 degrees 30 minutes west a distance of 700 feet; thence along said abandoned road and line of Geiman and Ondorff, north 36 degrees west a distance of 1,227 feet to an iron pin in said road; thence continuing along said road and line of land now or formerly of Geiman and Ondorff and Harry Van Dyke, north 12 degrees west 235 feet to a pin in the first mentioned public road; thence continuing along said public road and line of T. J. Moran, south 79 degrees 30 minutes west 435 feet to an iron pin; thence continuing in said road by a course north 17 degrees west 16½ feet to an iron pin on line of Bert Carey and T. J. Moran; thence along line of said Bert Carey and continuing in said road, south 53 degrees west 205 feet to an iron pin on line of land of Frank Newell and Bert Carey; thence continuing along said public road and land of Frank Newell, south 35 degrees west a distance of 895 feet to an iron pin at the place of beginning. Being part of the same premises which E. R. Harbaugh and Annie N. Harbaugh, his wife, by their deed dated April 2nd, 1917, and of record in the Recorders Office in Deed Book, Vol. 78, Page 275, granted and conveyed unto Herbert H. Deckert and Jesse F. Deckert, parties of the first part hereto.

A copy of Act No. 194, certified, describing said tract is available upon application.

TERMS: The high bidder shall immediately deposit with the Department of Property and Supplies, cash, certified check, bank cashier's or trust company treasurer's check, payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or other acceptable form of remittance not subject to revocation, in an amount of a least 25 per cent of the high bid.

COMMONWEALTH, during the period of time August 14, 1956, reserves the right to accept or reject the high dollar bid. Should the high dollar bid be accepted the COMMONWEALTH, will make and execute a deed to the purchaser. Should the high dollar bid be rejected, that bidder's deposit will be returned, not later than August 25, 1956.

Today's Pattern

Here's the prize-winning fashion this season — combining cool comfort with the flattery of a sheath-slim line! Simply smart — buttoned shoulders, action back pleat (sew-very-easy), big, handy pockets. Ideal style for a crisp linen, cotton pique, or gingham!

Pattern 4778: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Sizes 16 takes 4⅜ yards 35-inch fabric.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.

Send 35c in coin (no stamps, please) for Pattern, with Name, Address, Style Number and Size. Address PATTERN BUREAU, The Gettysburg Times.

Box 42, Old Chelsea Station
New York 11, N. Y.

For first class mail include an extra 5c per pattern.

FARM CALENDAR

Hay For Turkeys — At eight weeks of age, turkeys crave more bulk in their ration, says Harry Kauffman, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Legume hay can be fed in the bales without removing the bale ties. As the hay is eaten, the ties can be tightened to keep the bales from collpsing.

Cause Of Death — Lightning is one of the most frequent killers of farm livestock at this time of year. However, Dr. Samuel B. Guss, Penn State extension veterinary specialist, warns not to be caught off guard by death losses during a storm. Black eg and anthrax also are killers at this season. Better call your veterinarian.

Testers Needed — There is a great need for testers for dairy herd improvement associations. If you would like to be a tester, you first have to be recommended by your county agent. You then complete a training short course at the Pennsylvania State University. The next course starts August 1, ends August 15.

Repair Damage — If a storm damages your trees or shrubs, prune them back immediately, urges A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State extension ornamental horticulturist. Paint all wounds more than an inch in diameter with a protective tree paint.

Protect The Corn — It is now legal in Pennsylvania to use fireworks to scare blackbirds away from your cornfields, reminds Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist. Ask your county agent for detailed information.

Train To Show — With roundups and fairs coming along soon, now is the time to rain livestock for showing, says Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist.

EXPRESS HOPE FOR ACCEPTANCE OF AMENDMENT

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two ranking Republicans expressed confidence today the House will accept their amendment to bar new military assistance money for Yugoslavia.

The $4,110,920,000 foreign aid appropriations bill, embodying the amendment, was passed by the Senate last night 60-30.

But the Senate rebuffed 50-42 President Eisenhower's personal plea for a free hand to deal with the situation created by Marshal Tito's newly resumed friendship with Russia.

The sponsors of the amendment, Senators Knowland of California, Republican leader, and Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, will serve as Senate conferees late today in a meeting with representatives of the House to settle differences over the measure.

"Fight For Acceptance"

Bridges told reporters he and Knowland "are going to fight to get the House conferees to accept the amendment" and he said they are "hopeful" of success.

While the administration won its Senate battle to retain in the bill virtually the full amount of the ceilings carried in a previously enacted authorization measure, the money total faced a possible sharp cut in the conference committee. The Senate bill carries 685 million dollars more than the House allowed. In normal practice the two houses frequently split differences on money items.

The Yugoslavia amendment still would permit the administration to deliver jet fighters and military equipment already in the pipeline for Yugoslavia.

Includes Jets

Knowland told the Senate that totals around 100 million dollars worth of material from previous appropriations. And Bridges said it includes "several hundred jet bombers."

Knowland said the effect of the amendment is to refuse Eisenhower authority to earmark "between 25 and 30 million dollars" of the new money for Tito's government.

Still in the bill is about 17 million dollars of defense support funds for Yugoslavia for a type of economic aid.

On final passage, 30 Republican and 30 Democrats joined in support of the measure. Fifteen Republicans and 15 Democrats opposed it.

Fund Bill Is Over House Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' last appropriation bill for this session headed toward the Senate Floor today carrying 369½ million dollars more than the House voted.

The Senate Appropriations Committee last night approved the supplemental bill with a total of $2,311,391,438. The House had passed the bill earlier in the evening with a $1,941,895,000 total.

Most of the Senate additions were for items asked since the House committee prepared its bill. They included funds for a newly authorized atomic merchant ship, for a quicker start on airways modernization, for school construction and operation in districts crowded because of federal installations, for new health research facilities.

The largest part of the original House bill was for Atomic Energy Commission needs.

The Senate is expected to consider the measure Friday unless senators agree to suspend the rules and take it up earlier.

HEMISPHERE PARTNERSHIP FAVORED BY IKE

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

PANAMA (AP)—Establisnment of closer personal relationships for an approach to Western Hemisphere problems was seen today as a major result of the Panama meeting of American presidents.

President Eisenhower left Monday night for Washington after a busy extra day of conferences with 11 presidents or presidents-elect of American republics. He met earlier with the other chief executives here for sessions commemorating the beginning of Pan-American relations 130 years ago.

Stressed by Eisenhower in his conference proposal was improvement of "human welfare" in the American republics.

One U.S. source said Eisenhower's plan envisaged a cooperative partnership arrangement to meet hemisphere problems. The United States now is working with Latin-American nations on a bilateral basis.

Others Favor Plan

The source said Eisenhower's call for a commission to study economic, financial, social and technical problems of the Americas was in line with his partnership plan.

Diplomatic quarters said the other heads of state had indicated informally their support for establishment of such a commission. Eisenhower said he would appoint his brother Milton to the body. A U.S. source said the commission probably would be formed within four or five weeks.

Although the group would have power only to make suggestions, the American source interpreted it as a step toward a partnership arrangement.

Not Large Expense

Eisenhower said one goal of the commission could be the application of atomic energy to industry and to fight disease.

With all nations working together, the U.S. source said, the new plan should not require any large increase in U.S. expenditures although a slight boost is not ruled out.

The general feeling among delegates to the meetings here was that the major accomplishment was establishing close, friendly contacts between government leaders.

"If with the Panama conference we have initiated an era of personal contact among heads of state then it has been more than just a success," said President Ricardo Arias of Panama, the host.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies, who led the National League in low run games pitched in 1955, allowed the most home runs during the season (41).

The U. S.-Canada defense line in the far north is called the DEW line, named for the Distant Early Warning line in case of sudden attack.

Father Of Drowned Baby Is In Korea

MANTOLOKING, N. J. (AP) — Eighteen-month-old John Rice, who drowned in Barnegat Bay yesterday, never met his soldier father stationed in Korea.

The youngster was playing in the house. Five minutes later his mother, Mrs. Alice Rice, Wallingford, Conn., noticed he was gone.

He had slipped outside, wandered 200 feet to the water and tumbled in.

When Mrs. Rice ran out, the family dog was standing on the shore staring at the spot where John floated face down in the water two feet away.

The Point Pleasant first aid squad worked on the boy for an hour and a half without success.

His father, 1st Lt. David K. Rice, went to Korea before John was born and has seen only pictures of him.

OPEN AND SHUT AUDITORIUM IS PLANNED

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — As part of its redevelopment program, Pittsburgh is planning a combination indoor-outdoor auditorium to provide "major league facilities" for sports and civic events.

It will be constructed on a 20-acre tract in midtown Pittsburgh near the Golden Triangle district. It is tentatively scheduled for completion in 1959 — Pittsburgh's bicentennial year.

It will have a vast retractable metal roof — a dome 415 feet in diameter, composed of eight sections which will tower 12 stories high. At the touch of a switch, six of the sections will slide over two fixed sections, providing an outdoor amphitheater in the summer.

Seats will be provided for 7,500 to 14,000 persons depending on the event. There will be parking facilities for nearly 3,000 automobiles in and around it.

It is hoped by Pittsburgh officials that the new auditorium will make the city "major league" in such sports as boxing, basketball and ice hockey. The city also expects to gain a larger share of the convention business.

During the year the auditorium also will house the Civic Light Opera, musical shows and other presentations. Plans includes provisions for air-conditioning, acoustics, stages and facilities for radio and television broadcasts.

Need for a new auditorium was emphasized sharply several months ago when The Gardens, the only adequate sports arena in town, was ordered demolished to make way for apartment buildings.

Teams Homeless

As a result, the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American hockey League and the Duquesne University basketball team are homeless. There is speculation that the Hornets might be moved to another city until the new auditorium is completed. Duquesne, a national collegiate power, has accepted an invitation to share Pitt's basketball floor.

Major indoor boxing shows also are eliminated with the passing of The Gardens. Local promoters are looking forward to presenting main attractions in the new auditorium.

The Public Auditorium Authority of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County began acquiring property on the site early this year. It expects to have construction of the $14,000,000 project under way by March 1, 1957.

CHARGES PILE UP AGAINST HODGE; COLOSSAL LIST

By CHARLES WHALEN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Formal charges naming deposed State Auditor Orville E. Hodge were piled high today as prosecutors pressed a "colossal" list of grievances against him.

The exact number of counts on which he has been named because of a million-dollar shortage in his office was 330. More may follow.

A Sangamon County grand jury yesterday returned 46 separate indictments against Hodge, once a big man in the Republican state administration. Each indictment, in turn, carried six counts. Three were for embezzlement, each with a 1 to 15 year prison sentence possible. Two were for forgery which carries a 1 to 20 year term, on conviction, and one was for confidence game, which carries a 1 to 10 year sentence.

$650,000 Involved

A federal grand jury in Chicago last Saturday named Hodge and two associates in 54 indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the state in mishandling $872,000 in bank funds.

The indictments returned here yesterday covered 46 state warrants (checks) which State's Atty. George Coutrakon said were fraudulently issued and cashed for a total of nearly $650,000.

Coutrakon, who asked the indictments here, told newsmen, "It doesn't look like we're ever going to get to the bottom of this."

Coutrakon reportedly was turning his attention to the activities of Edward A. Hintz, resigned president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, and Edward A. Epping, office manager and chief lieutenant to the ousted state auditor.

Crash Fatal To Newville Airman

PLATTSBURG, N. Y. (AP) — A/3C C. James Miller Davidson, 19, of Newville, Pa., died yesterday of injuries suffered Monday in an auto accident near here.

Killed in the crash was A/3C Gary Gilbert Brettner, 18, of St. Paul, Minn.

Two other airmen, third class, were injured in the accident. They were Dorland Moyer, 18, Millmont (Union County), Pa., and Samuel Gantt, 19, of Hedgesville, W. Va. All were stationed at Plattsburg Air Force Base.

54 Merchants Offer Many Outstanding Merchandise Bargains Friday, Saturday

Annual Sale Days Will Be Conducted In Gettysburg; $1,500 In Valuable Prizes

With outstanding bargains being offered by the 54 merchants participating in the annual Gettysburg Sale Days, large crowds are expected to throng the local stores here on Friday and Saturday.

The shoppers will find not only one of the largest accumulations of merchandising bargains in the history of the event, but they will have the opportunity to share in the more than $1,500 being offered in merchandise and cash prizes by the participating business places and the sponsoring Gettysburg Retail Merchants Association.

All of the business places taking part in the Sale Days will be open Friday and Saturday evenings.

Drawings Saturday Night

Each of the participating merchants will conduct drawings Saturday evening for the $10 and $5 gift certificates that each will award to his patrons during the Sale Days.

The grand drawing for the major prizes will take place in Lincoln Square at 9 p.m. on Saturday.

Customers need not be present at the individual stores or at the grand drawing in order to receive a prize.

Offer Grand Prizes

The Grand Prize will be a $259.95 Frigidaire automatic washer.

The second grand prize will be a $109.95 portable Admiral television set.

The other grand prizes will be a $50 merchandise gift certificate; a Samsonite bridge set, table and chairs; $25 in cash donated by the Gettysburg National Bank and a $25 savings account donated by the First National Bank.

Names of all the winners will be broadcast over WGET Sunday evening at 9 o'clock.

Enthusiastic On Prospects

Gettysburg merchants were enthusiastic today about the prospects for large crowds and heavy buying during the two-day Sales Days event. "We believe that Gettysburg merchants never have offered so many shopping opportunities at such savings as they have done for Friday and Saturday of this week," one businessman said.

"We also are offering very attractive prizes — and more of them than in other years and we believe that many shoppers will find those prizes an extra inducement to come into the stores to examine the bargains that are being offered."

A special section of The Gettysburg Times today is devoted to the advertisements of the participating merchants for Sales Days.

START PROBE AT MIDDLETOWN

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A tie-in between the giant Wright Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio, and the Olmsted Air Force base at Middletown was seen Tuesday as a federal grand jury began an investigation of the latter base.

Tht Olmsted Base is a major source of supplies for Air Force craft in the eastern section of the United States.

The connection between the Ohio and Pennsylvania bases was evidenced by the presence of six witnesses outside the grand jury room, with four of the men known to be from Wright Field.

U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy said the investigation would last a "couple of days" and said "substantial sums are involved."

Other than to deny reports that hundreds of thousands of dollars figure in the investigation, he said he would have no fruther comment as to the exact nature of the probe "at this time."

Under the scrutiny of the grand jury will be the air material area of the Middletown base. The probe is reported to center around "favors" accorded to "certain individuals" indicating that government contracts are involved.

Levy said the grand jury will return to the investigation of the Army Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna later this week.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has appointed Michael Lawler, Scranton, Lackawanna County Democratic chairman, as a member of the General State Authority.

Lawler, who will succeed the late former U.S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, will be sworn in today.

Carnival Worker Is Named In Fatality

PORT EDWARDS, N. Y. (AP)—Mickey Miller, 24, Harrisburg, Pa., a carnival worker, has been charged with criminal negligence and driving while intoxicated as the result of a highway accident in which his six-year-old nephew died.

Miller on Monday waived examination on arraignment before a justice of the peace. He was held for grand jury action. Miller was committed to Washington County Jail at Salem when he was unable to post $5,000 bail.

The boy, Archie Miller, was killed July 17, when a heavy carnival truck driven by Miller overturned on Route 4, south of Fort Edward.

MILK OUTSIDE 5-MILE RADIUS BARRED IN ROME

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—A food chain has legally challenged a ruling by the Fulton Board of Health that milk sold in Fulton stores must come from dairies within five miles of the city.

State Supreme Court Justice E. Howard Ringrose on Monday denied a request of the P and C Food Stores for immediate relief from the requirement.

He ordered a trial for this fall in Syracuse. No date was immediately set.

The food chain filed the action after the Fulton Board of Health rejected two P and C applications for permission to sell milk processed by the Dairymen's League of Syracuse and the Athens Dairy Corp. of Sayre, Pa.

Willis D. Morgan, P and C attorney, told the court there was among milk dealers "a conspiracy . . . designed to control the economics of milk distribution" in Fulton.

He said that while dairies in the approved area charged retail stores 20 cents a quart for milk, they sold the same milk in their own retail outlets for 18 cents a quart.

Sheridan Hillick, Fulton corporation counsel, said the applications had been rejected because the food chain did not list in its applications the names of suppliers of the Dairymen's League and Athens Dairy and because the Fulton health officer could not exercise his option to inspect the sources of the milk.

Eugene D. Litchtenberg, attorney for a group of Fulton dairies, said the P and C action was a "threat" designed to compel local dealers to sell their milk at a low price and to permit the chain stores to compete with the dairies' own stores.

Former Moderator Dies Monday Night

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Dr. E. E. Robb, 75, retired Presbyterian minister who was moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania in 1948-49, died Monday night at his home in nearby Dunns Station.

Dr. Robb served as pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in McKeesport for 25 years before retiring in 1952. Although retired, he had been interim pastor the past two years at the Old Concord Presbyterian Church. Many years ago he was a pastor of a Presbyterian Church at Johnstown.

Survivors include two children, Glendon Robb of Scarsdale, N.Y., and Mrs. Walter C. Shaw Jr. of Mt. Lebanon.

Funeral services will be held here Thursday.

BLOCK MOVE ON CIVIL RIGHTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats have blocked a move by Northern Democrats to dislodge the House - passed civil rights bill from the Senate Judiciary Committee.

And Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas protested against any attempt to circumvent "orderly procedure" in the civil rights battle. He said proponents would endanger legislation to liberalize the social security system and other measures if they persisted in their efforts.

The fight over civil rights broke out at the start of Tuesday's Senate session. Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), backed by Sens. Douglas (D-Ill) and Lehman (D-NY), tried in vain to offer a resolution to take the House civil rights bill away from he Judiciary Committee and bring it before the Senate for immediate action.

Under the parliamentary situation prevailing, Hennings had to get unanimous consent to offer his resolution. Sen. Russell (D-Ga), quarterbacking the Dixie forces, immediately objected.

"I object to this Brownell bill being brought up by unanimous consent," said Russell, referring to Atty. Gen. Brownell.

The bill passed by the House yesterday embodied the Eisenhower administration's recommendations, as outlined by the attorney general.

The name Tennessee is drived from the Cherokee Indian village of Tanasi.

Upper Conewago Church Of The Brethren Dates Back To 1741 And Is One Of The Early Colonial Congregations Established In This Locality

The Upper Conewago Congregation came into existence in the year 1849 as the result of a division of the territory then belonging to the Big Conewago Congregation into two separate congregations, to be known as Upper Conewago and Lower Conewago. Thus to secure a complete picture of Upper Conewago, it is necessary to trace the history of Big Conewago from its beginning in the year 1741 until the time of the division in 1849. Upper Conewago is not, as its organization date seems to indicate, a comparatively young congregation, but actually dates back to the year 1741, and is justly called one of the early colonial congregations.

The original Mummert Meeting House was erected in 1852 on the site of the present house. It was replaced in 1882 because of an enlarged congregation. It was the first church in Upper Conewago to provide accommodations for travellers and meals. It is this church which serves the congregation today.

The Latimore Meeting House was the second structure in the Upper Conewago congregation. Land was purchased in 1856 and the house built at the present site. A meeting house, the present Latimore house, was erected in 1892 at a cost of $2,400.

Originally there were nine centers of activity: Latimore, Mountain, Bermudian, Conewago, East Berlin, West Berlin, Longeneckers, Pigeon Hills and Seven Hundred. The boundary lines and districts are substantially the same today as they were then. Accurate records as to the number of members living within the confines of the Upper Conewago boundaries at the time of its organization are not available, but it is estimated that there must have been approximately thirty families.

Brother Adam Brown was ordained as an elder in 1849 at the same meeting in which the division was made, and immediately became the first presiding elder of Upper Conewago.

2 Meetinghouses

After the division the two meetinghouses Altlands, near Bigmount, and Wolgamuths, near Dillsburg—which had belonged to Big Conewago, became the property of the Lower Conewago Congregation. As a result Upper Conewago was left without a house of worship. It was necessary, therefore, to hold meetings and Love Feasts in the houses and barns of the brethren. During these early days sociability among brethren was at its peak.

In 1851 a building committee consisting of Daniel Brown, George Dierdorff and Daniel Baker was appointed. This committee entered into an agreement with John Mummert, a deacon, to purchase a tract of land near East Berlin for the sum of $20.00, said tract of land to be used as a site for a meetinghouse, and the enlargement of the burial ground, which apparently existed there at the time. In the year 1852 a small stone meetinghouse was erected, and on May 3, 1954, John Mummert granted a deed for the property to Abraham Brown, Samuel Longenecker and John Mummert, deacons of the German Baptist Society (Upper Conewago Congregation). The location chosen was the site of the present Mummert meetinghouse. Necessary funds were solicited from the members, and much of the labor and material used was furnished by faithful members as their contribution towards the project.

The first Mummert church did not have a basement for use on Love Feast occasions and these services were still held in private homes. It is said that the Bechtel farm along the Beaver Creek was the scene of the early Love Feasts. It is also said that a number of members had been buried in a graveyard on this farm, the remains being later moved to the Mummert Cemetery after the erection of the meetmghouse there.

New Structure In 1882

In the year 1882 the small stone meetinghouse of Mummerts, erected in 1852, was replaced by a larger brick structure. This house, together with additional land acquired at various times for enlarging the cemetery plus the 18-acre farm adjoining it (purchased by Upper Conewago in 1877) is today's Mummert church. It is interesting to note that in planning the new house, provision was made for those travelers who came from a distance and who found it necessary to remain over night. Accomodations on the second floor were largely used for Love Feast services, which were then held for two days. Necessary equipment for the preparation of meals was provided on the basement floor. This was the first church in Upper Conewago providing such accommodations, and they are still used today.

Although he had been assisted in his duties for a number of years by Elders Jacob P. Lerew and Daniel Longenecker, Elder Adam Brown still exercised oversight of the congregation. Now, however, his health and strength were failing him, and he felt that he was no longer able to bear the burden. In order to relieve him, somewhat, Elder Jacob P. Lerew was entrusted with the office of presiding elder, an office he held until 1888.

To Elders Brown, Longenecker, and Lerew, and to their co-workers, belongs the credit for having brought the congregation through the difficult period of infancy. It is said by those who knew Elder Brown, who died in 1896, that he was more than willing to make any personal sacrifice in order to promote the welfare of the church. He was loved and respected as a man of God, not only by the members of his own church, but by all the entire community.

New Elder Elected

On June 1, 1888, the congregation elected Peter Brown as presiding elder. J. A. Long, who later became elder of the York Congregation, was elected to the ministry by the congregation in the same year.

Having realized the need of a meetinghouse at the upper end of the congregation for some years, the brethren decided to build a second house of worship in Latimore township, near York Springs. The location chosen is the site of the present Latimore meeting house.

In the year 1856, Samuel Burkholder, Jacob P. Lerew, and Michael Brown, deacons, purchased from Jacob Griest one acre of land for $100 for the purpose of building a house of worship and the establishment of a burial ground.

1st Latimore Church

A church was erected on this spot shortly thereafter, and Upper Conewago now had a house of worship at each end of its territory. As in the case of the Mummert church, much of the labor and material used in construction was donated by the members, and money needed was raised by subscription.

In 1892 a new meeting house was built at Latimore. The building committee consisted of George Winand, John Lerew, John and George Dierdorff.

The new brick church, the present Latimore house, was built on church, but a basement for use on Love Feast occasions was provided, and a second story was fitted out as sleeping quarters. Many times these lodging facilities were filled to capacity. A long shed was built to the rear of the church to provide a place of shelter for the horses.

The first Love Feast ever held in the Latimore house was held in the year 1892.

More Meeting Houses

From 1860 to 1886, under the leadership of Elder Adam Brown and his co-workers the congregation experienced a sound and steady growth, so much so, in fact, that in addition to the services held in the two church houses, meetings were also held in private homes, at the Five Points schoolhouse, and at the Baker schoolhouse. These meetings were well attended and much good seed was sown.

As a result of its steady growth, Upper Conewago was able to build two more meetinghouses in 1874. To take care of the central part of the territory, a house was built on a two-acre tract of land, sold by Washington and John Myers to Samuel Hollinger, John Brough and William Gitt, deacons, for the sum of $225. A burial ground was provided at the rear of the church. The location chosen, near Hampton, is the site on which the present Hampton meetinghouse stands.

The other meetinghouse, also built in 1874, was, and has since been known as the Trostle house. It was built on a one-acre tract acquired from Brother Isaac B. Trostle on June 6, 1874, for $100. This house stands on the site today and is located about four miles northwest of York Springs.

Ne wElders Named

In the late 1870's Elder Adam Brown, feeling that the oversight of the congregation was weighing heavily upon his physical strength, asked for help in performing his duties. As a result, Jacob P. Lerew and Daniel Longenecker were ordained as elders, and thereafter assisted Elder Brown in his work.

Some of the ministers and deacons who assisted Elder Brown, faithfully, during the early days of the congregation were John Brough, David H. Baker, John Harlacher, George Winand and Peter Kauffman as ministers; Brown, Samuel Hollinger, William Gitt, Solomon Keeney, Frederick Winand, John Marbold and Joshua Leas as deacons.

Hampton House Raged

In April, 1894, the Hampton house was almost totally destroyed by a storm which swept over that community. The house was rebuilt a short time later.

Some of the faithful deacon brethren who were active in assisting Elder Peter Brown during this period were: Jesse Masemore, John Lerew, Joseph Bowser, George Firestone, E. L. Kauffman, William Stoner, Daniel Bear and Elias Hollinger. Younger brethren beginning their work as deacons were John Raffensberger and C. L. Baker, both installed on April 15, 1895.

On May 5, 1896, Upper Conewago considered the matter of starting a Sunday School, and a committee consisting of Samuel S. Miller, O. V. Long, C. L. Baker, D. H. Baker, E. L. Kauffman, and George Resser were appointed to make surveys and recommendations.

Board Of Trustees

The first appointment of a board of trustees was made on April 19, 1897. Joseph Bowser, Michael Wiley and John Lerew were the first board. It was their duty to assist the deacons in carrying on the business affairs of the church.

A year later, on April 1898, two additional deacons were chosen. They were George Resser, now an elder in the Upper Codorus Congregation, and John Trostle.

In 1899 another house of worship was erected, present East Berlin Church. The building committee, consisting of Joseph Bowser, Michael Wiley, and Daniel Brown, purchased a site from Dr. R. N. Meisenhelder for $450. A brick church costing approximately $2,500 was erected on this Locust Street plot. Funds were raised by spbscription. Because of the proximity of the Mummert graveyard, a burial ground was not provided at East Berlin. This house is the only "town" church in the congregation, the other churches being located several miles from the nearest town. Dedication services at the new East Berlin church were held February 25, 1900, with the sermon preached by Elder Levi Mohler. Three years later (1903) the district ministerial and Sunday School meeting was held here.

Requests Granted

About this time requests for a mid-week prayer service and Christian Workers' meetings was acted upon. These requests were granted, and instructions were given to use the East Berlin church, when there were no requests for the meetings in private homes.

On October 5, 1901, Elder Peter Brown, who had served as presiding elder for approximately 14 years, died. His successor as presiding elder was Orville V. Long, who served in this capacity for less than two years.

While Elder Long was in charge, Upper Conewago built its last new meeting house on a plot, donated by John L. Bosserman and wife, and located near Baker's schoolhouse in Reading township.

The building committee, consisting of John Bosserman, John Harlacher, and John Trostle, finished work and turned the new building over to the congregation for dedication on November 22, 1903. There after services were held in the new church instead of in Baker schoolhouse. Funds to defray the cost of the building were raised by subscription.

Physical Growth

Study of the physical growth of Upper Conewago discloses that from 1849 to 1903 membership increased from about 100 to approximately 175. Regular services were not being held in six church houses, with special services at Five Points New Chester and Bragtown.

Nine church houses (including the rebuilding of three) had been constructed at a cost of about $20,000 with funds raised by subscription. Upper Conewago had also puschased the farm adjoining Mummert church for $1,700 for use and occupancy by the sexton at the Mummert house.

During this period of expansion the poor were not neglected, their assistance being the primary business recorded on the minutes of every council meeting. The minutes also show that the practice of good housekeeping was not limited to the proper usage of finances, but embodied the maintenance of high spiritual standards as well. The elder's warnings against worldliness run like an unbroken thread through the minutes of the various meetings.

Mummerts Sunday School

Although it is definitely known that Sunday school was held at Mummerts prior to this time, the first actual record of the election of a Sunday school superintendent indicates that C. L. Baker and Peter B. Kauffman were both elected at the East Berlin house, as the result of a tie vote cast at council meeting held January 1, 1902. Sunday school has continued since without interruption. A record of superintendents in their chronological order follows: Charles Baker, Peter B. Kauffman, Andrew Bowser, Walter Keeney, and D. E. Brandt. Assistants were G. M. Resser, J. B. Bechtel, David Bosserman, David Brown, Silas Barnes, Robert King, Bruce Anderson, Harry Mummert, and Titus Sipe.

On September 29, 1903, William A. Anthony was elected presiding elder to succeed Orville V. Long. He remained in office until May 20, 1905, when he was succeeded by C. L. Baker.

Shortly after this the home of Elder Long was destroyed by fire and, unfortunately, many early documents were lost. Elder Long later moved from this congregation to southern California where he remained until the time of his death.

School Personnel

On April 29, 1905, George M. Resser, born November 17, 1896, East Berlin, ordained January 1, 1921, was elected to the ministry and Samuel S. Miller and Daniel Bowser were elected deacons.

In 1906 requests for regular Sunday school came from Hampton, Latimore, Bakers and Trostles, and on April 14, 1907, it was decided to organize these four schools. Records perhaps incomplete indicate that the superintendents who served at Hampton Norman King, Charles Lehigh, E. K. Leatherman, John Leinert, Paul Miller, and Earl Witter. Assistant superintendents were George Spahr Edgar Lear, Roy Mummert, Harvey Herman, Paul Miller, Jr., and Sister Annie Leinert. Many of these officers also served as teachers. Other faithful teachers were Sisters Flora Dicks, Annie Leinert, Dora Miller, Agnes Witter and Mildred Miller.

Records of the Latimore Sunday School which also may be incomplete list as superintendents George Hull Edward Wolf, Ervin Baum, Paul Wagner and Luther Baum.

There are no available records to show who carried on the Sunday school work at Bakers and Trostles.

Hampton Meeting House was built in 1874. In 1894 it was destroyed by fire and rebuilt a short time later. Members of the congregation generally raised the money by subscription and donated both materials and labor for church projects of this kind.

Church Personnel

On April 14, 1906, Samuel S. Miller and Daniel Bowser were elected to the ministry, and Samuel H. Baker and David Brown became deacons.

On May 11, 1907, George Winand was elected to the eldership, and George M. Resser was advanced to the second degree ministry. W. G. Group and Clayton Weaver were elected deacons in the same year.

Brother Samuel Miller was advanced to the second degree ministry, and S. M. Lehigh and Bucher Harlacher were elected deacons on May 23, 1908.

S. M. Lehigh and W. G. Group were elected to the ministery on October 10, 1908.

On September 25, 1909, Abraham Hull and C. C. Brown were ordained elders. Both of othese brethren came to Upper Conewago from other congregations by certificate.

On April 30, 1910, Bucher Harlacher was elected to the ministry, and William Brough and Daniel Stoner were elected deacons.

On April 22, 1911, S. M. Lehigh and W. G. Group were advanced to the second degree ministry, and Andrew Bowser and W. L. Kauffman were elected deacons. Brother Bowser and Brother Kauffman served as deacons until the time of their deaths.

Elder S. S. Miller

Samuel S. Miller was ordained an elder by the congregation on May 16, 1912.

In the fall of 1913 the district ministerial and Sunday School meeting was held in the East Berlin church, the second District Meeting to be held there.

About this time it was decided to discontinue regular meetings out of that community, and the attendance was too small to justify regular appointments there.

On August 2, 1913, George Hull and George Harbold were elected deacons, and in 1915 E. M. Wolf came to Upper Conewago by certificate, remaining until 1941 at which time he transferred his certificate to Marsh Creek.

Ladies Aid Society

In 1915 some of the sisters of our congregation organized a Ladies' Aid Society. Some of the members of this organization were: Ida Brown, president; Alice Bosserman, treasurer; Elmira Group, Minnie Baker, Lucinda Baker, Sarah Sunday, Emma Miller, Ellen Kauffman, Cora Bosserman, Emma Bechtel, Lizzie Burgand, Ida Mummert, Kate Sunday, Alice Brown, Rachael Pentz, Lizzie Weaver, Annie Danner, Lulu Lerew, Ellen Wagner, Elizabeth Bowser, Mary Jacobs, Annie Brown, Annie Bosserman, Kate Sprenkle, Esther Kauffman, Annie Miller and Annie Leinert. Although only nine of these original members are still living, the Ladies' Aid today has a membership of twenty-four. The present membership is as follows: Florence Danner, president; Ruth Sipe, vice president; Mary Altland, secretary-treasurer; Annie Brown, Lucy Danner, Virgie Anderson, Minnie Myers, Lora Weaver, Edith Boyer, Beulah King, Jeune King, Rebecca Anderson, Ethel Mummert, Gladys Rhinehart, Ella Wilt, Edith Mummert, Iva Mummert, Edna Price, Bertha Hull, Anna Boyer, Cora Bosserman and Mary Volland.

The Ladies' Aid Society meets weekly and has for its purpose the making of quilts, comforts, aprons, bonnets, pillow cases, etc. The funds realized from these efforts have been contributed to missions and used locally. Locally, the Aid has paid for the papering and painting of some of our church houses and for the installation of electric lights in three of them. They have furnished a mother's room in our East Berlin church, and a dormitory room at Elizabethtown College. They have also purchased dishes for the church and have donated various books to our ministers. They make donations to the Children's Home and to the Brethren's Home, and give assistance to some of the poor in the community.

New Election Method

In a council meeting held August 26, 1916, it was decided that all Sunday school superintendents chosen thereafter should be elected by the church. Prior to this time the superintendent of the East Berlin school was the only one elected in this manner. This accounts for the fact that the records of superintendents and their assistants given for Mummerts, Hampton, Latimore, Trostles and Bakers were previously referred to as having been incomplete.

In 1917, Brother Charles Staub came to our congregation as a deacon, by certificate.

In 1918 the Upper Conewago Congregation and the Brethren Cemetery Association of the Upper Conewago Congregation applied for, and were granted charters by the Adams County Circuit Court of Appeals.

George Hull and J. Monroe Danner were elected to the ministry on September 7, 1918. On August 30, 1919, Ervin Baum and Charles Lehigh were elected deacons.

Baker House Discontinued

On August 27, 1921, it was decided to discontinue meeting at the Baker house. Through the removal of some Brethren families, and a general lack of interest, attendance had dwindled to practically nothing.

At the same council meeting, E. K. Leatherman, a minister, who had moved into our congregation, presented his certificate.

On December 24, 1921, S. M. Lehigh and W. G. Group were ordained as elders.

On May 22, 1922, after having served for about seventeen years as presiding elder, C. L. Baker tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the congregation. Elder Baker was prominent in the affairs of the districts, as well as in his home congregation. He served at various times as a delegate to District and annual Meetings, and also served on the

Five East Berlin Charges Are Directed By Rev. R. A. Rezash

Rev. Robert H. Rezash directs five congregations in the East Berlin pastoral charge of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Five churches — Mt. Olivet, St. Paul's, both East Berlin R. D.; Emmanuel, Hampton; St. John's, New Chester, and Zwingli, East Berlin — the the cooperating members of the East Berlin Pastoral Charge of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. The governing body for the charge is the Joint Consistory, made up of the consistories of the individual churches.

The Joint Consistory meets about three times a year. It has its own budget which is then broken down and assessed to the local churches on a per member basis. This budget includes the pastors' salaries, upkeep of the parsonage, office equipment and supplies and other incidental charge-wide expenditures.

The present officers are: President, Albert Bosserman, Jr., East Berlin R. 1; vice president, the Rev. Robert H. Rezash, East Berlin; secretary, Robert Hoke, East Berlin; and treasurer, George Berkebeimer, Thomasville R. 1.

Rural Pastor's Program

In 1949 this Pastoral Charge entered into a five-year agreement with the Boad of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church to cooperate in a Rural Pastor's Training program in conjunction with the Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in Lancaster, Pa.

In this program a regular pastor satisfactory to all parties concerned and qualified for a training program is secured and a student at the theological seminary, dedicated to Rural Ministry, is appointed to serve as an assistant pastor for a period of one year during which he receives practical training in rural church work. The present students participating in this program are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schoup of Coopersburg.

Each local congregation has a consistory which meets about three times a year. They are the supreme governing body of their churches and they, in addition to the Joint Consistory assessments, raise budgets for their own local needs.

Church Consistories

The consistories of the churches are as follows:

Emmanuel — Harry Chronister, president, Hampton; the Rev. Robert H. Rezash, vice president, East Berlin; John Gordon, secretary, Hampton; William Moul, treasurer, Hampton; Thurman Inskip, Hampton; Harold Smith, East Berlin R. 1, and Byron Nickey, New Oxford R. 2.

St. John's — Francis Sterner, New Oxford R. 1, president; the Rev. Robert Rezash, East Berlin, vice president; Edgar Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2, secretary; George Wolf, New Oxford R. 1, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Hull, New New Oxford R. 1, and Glenn Oxford R. 1; Miss Doris Fair, Cooley, New Oxford R. 2.

Other Consistories

St. Paul's — Howard Bubb, York R. 1, president; the Rev. Robert H. Rezash, East Berlin, vice president; Charles Sipe, Jr., York, secretary-treasurer; Glenn Snyder, Eas Berlin R. 1, and Richard Hoffman, York.

Zwingli — Mervin Chronister, East Berlin, president; the Rev. Robert Rezash, East Berlin, vice president; Carmon Leathery Jr., East Berlin R. 1, secretary; Robert Hoke, East Berlin, treasurer; C. Arthur Bowers, East Berlin, financial secretary; Mervin Myers, East Berlin R. 2; Raymond Chronister, East Berlin; Mrs. Kathryn Eisenhart, East Berlin; and George Berkheimer, Thomasville R. 1.

The charge publishes a monthly newsletter of eight pages called The Jopez Newsette. Mrs. Helen Snyder of Kralltown, submitted the winning suggestion in a contest to name the newsletter. Each of the letters in the name is the first letter in the name of one of the five churches in the charge.

Rev. Robert Rezash

The present pastor, the Rev. Robert H. Rezash, was born and raised in Green Bay, Wisconsin. He attended the public schools of that city and graduated from East High School in 1948 as an honor student. While in high school he was elected to Quill and Scroll, national honorary society for high school journalists. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1952 as an honor student and was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary society. He holds the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education and a teaching certificate in history and English from the University of Wisconsin.

He entered the Theological Seminary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in Lancaster in the fall of 1952, serving as a student associate pastor at St. Stephen's Church, New Holland, Pa., in the 1952-1953 school year. In the summer of 1953 he went to Washington, D. C., to become the assistant pastor of Grace Church. During the 1953-1954 school year he enrolled in the school of religion at Howard University in the District of Columbia, the outstanding Negro school in the United States.

In the summer of 1954, he was interim pastor of Salem Church, Allentown. He graduated from the seminary at Lancaster in May of 1955, the highest ranking student of his class and a commencement speaker.

He assumed the pastorate of the East Berlin Charge on a weekend basis in March of 1955. On June 15, 1955, he assumed the charge responsibilities on a full-time basis.

Mrs. Rezash, the former Anita Quentmeyer, of Madison, Wisconsin, holds the Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Wisconsin and a Master of Science degree in Library Science from Western Reserve University, Cleveland. Before her marriage, she was a children's librarian in the Enoch Pratt Library system in Baltimore, Maryland.

HUGE LANTERN LOST

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Emanuel Poulson still can't figure out how thieves made off with his antique bronze Japanese lantern. It weighe 2,000 pounds.

Police theorize that whoever stole it backed a truck against Poulson's backyard fence, then used a block and tackle to hoist it aboard.

Poulson valued the lantern at $1 a pound.

STEAM ENGINES DO FAST FADE INTO MUSEUMS

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — The old "iron horse" is running out of steam.

Trains magazine says U. S. Steam locomotives have dwindled from almost 39,000 in 1945 to less than 5,000.

Diesel power contisues to replace steam. Some 338 diesel units are now on order.

But railroad fans have made sure the steam locomotive won't disappear. At least 275 have been mounted in parks, museums and other sites from Waterville, Maine, to San Diego, Calif.

The Henry Ford Museum has nine steam engines at Dearborn, Mich. Among them is a 2-6-0 Nord of 1889, a narrow-gauge engine used in French efforts to guild the Panama Canal. Another is a 2-6-0 Grant of 1865. The woodburner was rebuilt by Ford in 1923.

20 Engines Displayed

At Shiloh, La., railroad enthusiasts can see 20 engines preserved by Paulsen Spence, president of a sand and gravel company. A handful of engines are in use, switching in the gravel pit. Most of them, however, are stored.

The Museum of Transport in St. Louis, Mo., has several locomotives. It is open from May 15 through Oct. 1.

At Alamosa, Colo., railroad fans have retired narrow-gauge equipment. The growing collection includes R. G. S. Galloping Goose models and 4-6-0 ex-Florence and Cripple Creek locomotive loaned by the Rocky Mountain Railroad Club.

The Transportation Museum of The Baltimore and Ohio R. R. in Baltimore, Md., is one of the few railroad sponsored museums.

Children's Playground

At Griffith Park, Los Angeles, Calif., the children have a playground with 11 ancient steam locomotives. Among them is old Number One, the Stockton Terminal and Eastern Railroads 4-4-0. It is billed as the oldest active engine in the United States.

Near South Carver, Mass., Edaville is operated by F. Nelson Blount. His 7-mile, 2-foot gauge railroad line has 14 coaches, 4 passenger-carrying flats, 3 cabooses and 4 locomotives.

Knott's Berry Farm at Buena Park, Calif., recreates a railroad of the Old West. Its narrow-gauge line is powered by steam locomotives once used on the Rio Grande Southern Railroad.

In San Gabriel, Calif., Grizzly Flats is under the direction of Walt Disney and Ward Kimball, jazz-trombonist. Their narrow-gauge line features the Emma Nevada, a 2-6-0 of the Nevada Central Railroad.

In Pine Creek

At Pine Creek, four miles north of Freehold, N. J., a 3-foot-gauge road includes a ¼-mile track and a 1925 Baldwin, a 0-4-0 type (meaning its running gear consists only of four drive wheels with no smaller wheels in front or back).

Rail City, Sandy Pond, N. Y., runs its 1¼ miles of track from Memorial Day through Labor Day. It features narrow gauge equipment.

Railroad men expect more equipment museums will be established in the future. Fifteen roads are preserving 28 rare locomotives for exhibition purposes.

Only one railroad on the American continent operates a rolling railroad museum. The Canadian National moves its three engines, plus six old passenger cars, under the power of the ex-Grand Trunk Mogul, known as number 674, a 2-6-0 model, as a sort of mobile museum.

ASKS COURT TO UPSET VERDICT

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Ernest L. Lindsay of Harrisburg, Pa., who faces the death penalty for the murder of Herbert Diestler on a desolate highway last June, has appealed to the State Supreme Court to set aside the verdict.

Lindsay's attorney, who filed the appeal Monday, claimed seven errors in the case, and maintained there was not sufficient evidence to justify the conviction. Lindsay's execution has been postponed until Oct. 8 to allow the high court to act on the appeal.

Lindsay's attorney, J. B. Sullivan of Douglas said Dist. Judge S. D. Lewis erred in allowing Lindsay's companion, Kenneth N. Phillips, 28, of Norristown, Pa., to testify that he and Lindsay had stolen a car in which they were riding.

Lindsay admitted shooting Diestler, a retired real estate dealer from Lawndale, Calif., in June 1955.

Phillips pleaded guilty to a second degree murder charge and was sentenced to 20 years to life in the state penitentiary.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — An estimated 8,000 to 10,000 bees swarmed atop a downtown traffic light and sent pedestrians scurrying.

Charles McGhee, a lens grinder for an optical company, cleared up the jam when he got a box and ladder from a nearby store and after about half an hour coaxed the queen and her followers into the makeshift hive.

McGhee, an amateur beekeeper, later transferred the swarm to a hive at his home.

As a successor to C. L. Baker, the congregation elected Samuel S. Miller as its presiding elder on May 22, 1922.

District Meeting

In October, 1925, the District Meeting has held at the Mummert house, and in August, 1927, the ministerial and Sunday school meeting was held in the same church.

On November 6, 1927, our Hampton church was destroyed by fire, the second destruction of that particular church, the first having occurred in 1874 as a result of a storm. The church was rebuilt in 1929, largely from materials salvaged in tearing down the Baker meetinghouse, where services had been discontinued in 1919. Dedication services were in charge of Elder C. D. Bonsack.

On May 5, 1928, Brother Bucher Harlacher was ordained an elder, and on December 8, of the same year, Paul Wagner and James Sheaffer were elected deacons. Two additional members were added to the official body as of May 3rd, 1930, when Brother Paul Miller came as a minister and Brother Earl Witter as a deacon.

Elder Bruce Anderson

On August 20, 1935, Brother Bruce Anderson was elected to the ministry. He was installed a year later, and continues to serve actively and faithfully today. He is also a teacher of one of our mixed classes at the East Berlin Sunday School. On November 14, 1935, Brother J. Monroe Danner and Brother George Hull were ordained as elders.

By the time of the annual council in August, 1938, Elder Samuel S. Miller realized that his weakened physical condition would not allow him to continue in the office of presiding elder any longer. He served in that office, faithfully, for about sixteen years. On August 27, 1938, J. Monroe Danner was elected presiding elder of Upper Conewago.

In the same year a movement was started to reopen the Trostle meetinghouse. As services had been discontinued there in 1912, much work was required to put the house back into a usable condition. Members of the church took over the work of repairing and repainting the house, and clearing the grounds, and on August 27, 1939, rededicatory services were held. The committee in charge of soliciting funds for the remodeling of the Trostle house comprised

The East Berlin Meeting House is the only Brethren Church in the area within the confines of a town. Built in 1899 at a cost of $2,500, it was dedicated in 1900. All told, the Brethren built nine church houses, including the rebuilding of three at a cost of $20,000 in the Upper Conewago congregation.

Solomon Peifer, John Pentz, Charles E. Weaver, Bucher Harlacher and Glen Boyer.

On October 5, 1940, Glen Boyer and Titus Sipe were elected deacons. Both serve us as deacons today, and both are Sunday School teachers at East Berlin. On the same date Truman Grogan, installed as a minister, came to us by certificate. He also serves as a Sunday School teacher.

Upper Conewago Board

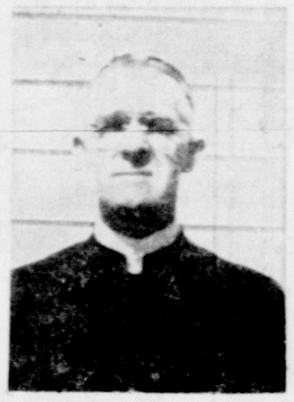

Upper Conewago's present official board is as follows: Elder in charge, J. Monroe Danner; past presiding elder, Samuel S. Miller; other elders, W. G. Group, D. Bucher Harlacher, George W. Hull; ministers, Bruce Anderson, Paul Miller, Trimmer Grogan; deacons, William E. Brough (died March 16, 1941), S. H. Baker, George Harbold, Charles Weaver, Ervin Baum, Charles Staub, James Sheaffer, Earl Witter, Harry Mummert, Paul Wagner, Lewis King, Luther Baum, Titus Sipe, Glen Boyer.

Sunday School organizations are: East Berlin — superintendent, D. E. Brandt; assistant superintendent, Titus Sipe; secretary, Dorothy Danner; treasurer, Robert Zeigler. Mummerts, Hampton and Latimore — superintendent, Earl Witter; assistant superintendent, Paul Miller Jr.; secretary, Phyllis Witter; treasurer, Firmain Nitchman.

Church clerk and corresponding secretary is Sister Bertha Hull; general church treasurer is D. E. Brandt; and ministerial fund treasurer is Glen Boyer.

Regular Services

The congregation holds regular Sunday morning services in four of its church houses in a rotating order, with an additional Sunday evening service at the East Berlin house every fourth Sunday.

Rev. Bruce Anderson is elder in charge of the Upper Conewago Church of the Brethren. He was elected to the ministry in 1935 and serves also as a teacher of one of the mixed classes at the East Berlin Sunday School.

Sunday School is held in the East Berlin house each Sunday, and also at the church where preaching services happen to be held on that particular day. Two Sunday School classes at East Berlin are organized, and both hold monthly class meetings.

There is a mid-week prayer meeting, and a mid-week meeting of the singing class and recently doctrinal teaching classes, peace conferences and Bible conferences have been conducted.

Upper Conewago still clings to a conservative course. It has withstood the storms of time for a period of 92 years, and stands today as a living testimony to the untiring efforts of our forefathers who upheld for us high standards of Christianity.

The historical committee of Upper Conewago Congregation consisted of John H. Myers, chairman; Bruce Anderson, William E. Brough, Elder D. B. Harlacher, and Sister Edna Price.

The number of members is 333

CIRCUS MUSEUM OFFERS VISITORS LOOK AT FREAKS

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Visitors to the Ringling Museums now may see exhibits tracing development of the circus from its earliest days to the present.

Two buildings once used for storage by the late John Ringling, circus king who died nearly 20 years ago, have been reopened as the Museum of the Circus.

They were first used as display rooms several years ago but now have been redecorated and rearranged to house hundreds of circus historical pieces.

Display Posters

One contains old circus wagons, including a restored steam calliope; circus trappings and a layout in miniature of a modern circus grounds.

Bill posters of one of the earliest circuses in this country — the North American circus — are on display, as are early costumes, woodcuts, prints, lithographs and etchings.

These trace the origin and development of circuses from the days of strolling entertainers to the present. One poster advertises the circus founded by Philip Astley in London in 1770.

Astley is generally regarded as the father of the modern circus. He constructed an amphitheater in London and later built one in Paris, showing his acts on a single stage.

Astley, sponsored by Marie Antoinette, enjoyed such tremendous popularity in Paris that the French government issued an edict limiting Astley's show people to performances on horses.

Astley went back to London where he designed a stage mounted on the backs of horses so his tumblers, jugglers and others could carry on their acts.

Freak Museum

The second building contains a museum of freaks and magic. Human freaks long have played an important role in the entertainment field and to this day form one of the biggest attractions on the circus midway.

A huge oil painting which is a composite of all known human and animal freaks dominates the freak museum.

Implements of the magician, including chains, locks and handcuffs used by the late Houdini in performing his escapes, are on display in the museum of magic.

The circus museum buildings are on the grounds of the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art and the palatial Ringling home, both now owned by the state and open to the public as museums.

COOK SUKIYAKI AT THE TABLE

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Here's a suggestion for the housewife who is looking for an unusual way to use her new electric skillet.

Try sukiyaki, a Japanese dish, is the recommendation of Grace Masuda, American-born Japanese instructor in the home economics department of Michigan State University.

The ingredients, attractively arranged, can be carried to the table on a platter and the dish can be cooked while the family or guests watch.

Soy sauce should be added in cooking, but she advises that the sauce is salty and no additional salt is needed.

Cooking Method

Heat the skillet and melt 1 inch cube of suet or 2 tablespoons of butter. Add 1 pound of top sirloin beef, sliced paper thin, and brown over a high heat until almost done. Add 2 stalks of celery, cut into long, thin slices; ½ pound mushrooms, sliced through cap and stem; add ½ cup bamboo shoots.

Cover and cook over low heat about five minutes, stirring gently, then add ¼ cup soy sauce. Increase the heat and cook five minutes more, stirring once or twice.

Serve immediately with hot, fluffy r . The recipe serves four persons.

ss Masuda suggests green pepper, Chinese cabbage, dry onions, carrots or green beans as other vegetables that can be used.

Rainy Lake Does Disappearing Act

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Rainy Lake in Presque Ile County does a disappearing act, almost as if somebody had pulled its plug.

At intervals the lake in northeastern Michigan nearly disappears through an underground channel, like bath water down a drain.

Geologists say the water seeps down into an underground limestone cavern. The lake fills up again when mud and silt accumulate to plug crevices in its bed.

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Started As Log Structure In Littlestown In 1763 When Itinerant Pastors Served Charge

The first record of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church is dated November 13, 1763, when as it was written, "Christian brethren of this section organized themselves into a congregation and named it the High German Lutheran Church."

This early church was served by itinerant pastors, who on their circuit also ministered to St. Michael's (now St. Matthew's, Hanover), St. Mary's, Silver Run, Md., and many other Lutheran congregations in the southeastern part of Pennsylvania.

The land upon which the present church is now situated is part of a tract given under grant by Thomas and Richard Penn to John Shawman and later, on October 26, 1771, conveyed to John Hoover for five shillings (a little more than a dollar), Hoover being a representative of the High German Lutheran congregation. At that time the tract contained two acres and sixteen perches.

The log structure pictured above is a model of the first church building of St. John's Lutheran Church and dates back to 1763 when the first congregation was formed. At that time the church was served by itinerant pastors.

Charter Granted In 1835

The charter for the incorporation of the Evangelical Church of St. John's bears such familiar names as Bowers, Harner, Kohlhouse, Unger and Willet. It provides that the ground adjoining that upon which the church was erected be occupied by the congregation as a place for burying the dead. This charter was duly granted in the year 1835 under the seal of James Ritner, governor of Pennsylvania.

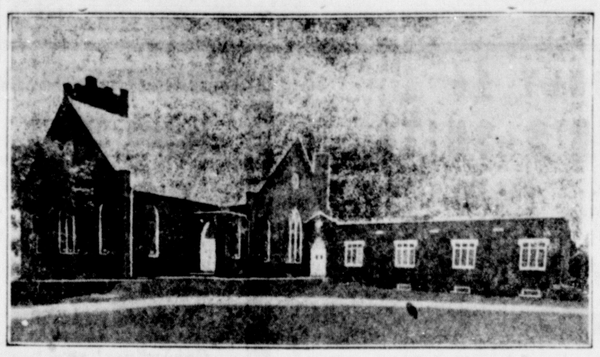

The records would indicate that St. John's Lutheran congregation was the third Lutheran congregation organized in what is now Adams County and was itself a daughter of St. Michael's (now St. Matthew's), Hanover.

The first record of a pastor serving St. John's was one Carl Frederick Wildbahn. He was a native of Saxony, Germany, and served Maryland and Pennsylvania churches as a catechist. On the request of congregations he was formally ordained and received into the ministerium.

Had Log Church

The first church was a log building. This was later converted into a dwelling house and a brick church was built in 1828-31, the dimensions of which were forty by fifty feet with galleries on three sides. In 1874, during the pastorate of the Rev. L. T. Williams, another brick structure was erected on the present church site, the foundation walls of which still serve for the transept of the present structure. A bell tower was added to the church structure during the pastorate of Rev. W. E Wire, 1893-97.

The records show that in 1825 there were some disturbances and dissatisfaction in the church and a new log structure was built on the south side of the Taneytown Road.

The present St. John's Lutheran Church building was dedicated in 1916 following the destruction of the earlier unit by lightning in 1915. Over the years constant renovation and redecoration have been carried out. The church was built during the pastorate of Rev. I. M. Lau.

The congregation, however, was short lived.

English preaching was first introduced (German being the vernacular) during the pastorate of the Rev. Jonathan Rothrauff. He is also accredited with organizing the first Sunday School. In 1856-57 the congregation was served by the Rev. M. J. Alleman whose son later became editor of the Adams County Independent, Littlestown. Regarding language usage, it is a matter of record that, as late as 1888, the Rev. D. R. Becker preached his trial sermon in German.

Set Up New Church

Grace Church, Two Taverns, was built in 1877 to accommodate a new influx of Lutherans in that community. This congregation became part of the St. John's Charge which already included St. Luke's, Mt. Pleasant Twp., and St. Mary's, Silver Run, Md.

In 1903 the Rev. C. P. Bastian became pastor of the congregation. His early days were spent as a teacher in the public schools as well as at the seminary in Gettysburg. He served on the Board of Education of Littlestown Borough for a number of years.

The 150th anniversary of the congregation was celebrated under the pastorate of the Rev. I. M. Lau. In preparation for the commemoration, extensive renovations were made to the church structure. However, misfortune befell the pastor and people, when, on August 2, 1915, the church edifice was destroyed by lightning. Undaunted by this crisis the congregation promptly built the larger structure which still serves as the church home. It was dedicated in 1916. During the building of the new church, divine worship services were held in the United Brethren Church on South Queen St., Littlestown, adjacent to the Catholic convent.

Foundation Gift

A new pipe organ was installed at the completion of the new church edifice at a cost of $2,000.00, half of which was given by the Carnegie Foundation, one of the last such gifts. Other improvements over the old edifice were the installation of a central heating system, floor carpeting and the first electric lights.

Under the Lau pastorate the parsonage also received a complete renovation in keeping with the modernization of the church. The Ladies' Aid Society was also organized under the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Lau.

The Rev. George Eveler followed as pastor and his ministry saw the organization of a Luther League. The grounds on the east side of the highway adjoining the church were purchased and in 1935 more land adjacent to the former purchase was bought and a social building erected.

Found Mission Society

A missionary society was organized under the pastorate of Rev. J. I. Hummer (1925-29) which, as an honor to its founder, still bears the name of the Alta Hummer Missionary Society. In 1926 the duplex envelope system was adopted and the individual communion cups first used.

At a meeting of the Church Council October 15, 1929, a motion was presented and favorably acted upon proposing that "St. John's Littlestown sever its connections with the charge known as St. John's Charge which is composed of St. John's, Grace, and St. Luke's, and that hereafter St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Littlestown, Pa., by virtue of its own choice, shall have and support its own pastor, form its own charge, and have services regularly every Sunday."

On February 26, 1930, an executive committee of the West Penn Synod met the Church Council and reported that the recommendation for separation was acceptable to the governing body. It was of the Synod in May 1930.

Rev. Longanecker's Pastorate

Rev. A. R. Longanecker was called as the first pastor of the reorganized charge. In 1932 an addition was made to the primary Sunday school room. Rev. Longanecker was the second successive pastor to discontinue his active ministry after retiring from St. John's.

The Rev. Kenneth James began his ministry on October 8, 1940. Outstanding events of his pastorate include the building of the present Sunday school unit, the codnerstone of which was laid October 12, 1941, and dedication exercises held on May 17, 1942 Under his pastorate, also, the Men's Brotherhood of the church was organized.

A Week Day School of Religious Education was set up with graded lessons and full faculty. Many children of non-members enrolled in the school from year to year. Shortly after Pastor James' arrival, the altar of the church was beautified by the placing of all the appointments.

Build New Parsonage

The Rev. William C. Karns became pastor of the church in February 1952. The congregation paid off all indebtedness and constructed a new parsonage in 1955 at a cost of $30,000, leaving a present indebtedness of $11,500. In the cemetery adjoining the church lie many of those who labored and prayed among St. John's people in years gone by.

Pastors who have served St John's Church are: Carl Frederick Wildbahn, 1763-82; Rev. John D Schroetter, 1783-1806; Rev. John G Grubb, 1806-25; Rev. G. R. Hoffman, 1826-30; Rev. Jonathan Rothrauff, 1830-37; Rev. Jacob Albert, 1837-48; Rev. Dr. C. A. Hay, 1848-49; Rev. D. P. Rosemiller, 1849-56; Rev. M. J. Alleman, 1856-57; Rev. Frederick Rothrauff, 1857-58; Rev. Lower Conewago Church Of The Brethren Was Founded In 1849 With Church Buildings At Wolamuth's (1844), Altland's (1795)

The Big Conewago Congregation was divided in 1849 and named Lower Conewago and Upper Conewago. At the same time a division line was made between the two congregations. The boundary line was as follows: "Beginning at Millers line on Forge Road, thence to Kings Tavern, thence to Big Conewago at mouth of Beaver Creek, thence along York and Adams County line and state road to Abner Binders, thence along York and Adams County line to the Cumberland County line to the Susquehanna River, comprising the northern half of York County." When the Big Conewago Congregation was divided, there were two church buildings: Wolgamuth's built in 1844, and Altlands union meetinghouse built in 1795. Both church houses after the division were in the Lower Conewago territory. They were small houses and not equipped for holding Love Feasts.

The Love Feasts were held in the barn on the Casper Markey farm near Mulberry until the first Bermudian meetinghouse was built in 1856. All Love Feasts from that time to the present have been held in the Bermudian meetinghouse.

First Meetinghouse

William Trimmer was presiding elder of Big Conewago at the time of the division. His residence being in Lower Conewago territory he was the first presiding elder of the new congregation. Peter Dierdorff, Peter Trimmer and Joseph Myers were also ministers residing in Lower Conewago at the time of the division and preached in Lower Conewago Church. Services were held in the homes of C. T. Raffensperger at Mulberry, Daniel Trimmer near Kralltown, and on the Casper Markey farm where the Love Feasts were held in addition to the services held in the two church buildings until the first Bermudian meetinghouse was built in the year 1856.

In the year 1856 the county surveyor surveyed 71 perches on a tract owned by William Harlacher, Sr. On the same date 123 perches were surveyed from a larger tract owned by Peter Trimmer. These two tracts made a plot of one acre and 63 perches and on this plot the first Bermudian meetinghouse was built.

The building committee was Samuel Groff, Peter Trimmer and C. T. Raffensperger. The house was built of native sand stone on the site of the present building. A deed for this church lot was not given until four years later, when a deed dated April 18, 1860, was granted to Benqamin Hollinger, George Harbold and C. T. Raffensperger, deacons of Lower Conewago Congregation, by William Harlacher Sr. and wife, and Peter Trimmer and wife. The amount paid for both lots to both parties was $94.-34¼.

The building committee of Bermudian meetinghouse kept a perfect record of all material and labor which amounted to $1,500. A record was also kept of the individual subscriptions. Six solicitations were made to raise the amount needed. There were 320 subscriptions. One hundred and eighteen dollars was the highest; twenty-five cents the lowest. Sixth-one of the 320 subscriptions were $5 each.

Present Meeting House

The Lower Conewago Church grew in numbers and the first Bermudian meeting house became too small, especially on Love Feast occasions. A special council was called on the 13th of November, 1886, to consider the feasibility of building a larger meetinghouse. The vote of the church was taken and was unanimous for a new and larger meetnghouse, if the necessary funds could be raised. It was also decided that the seven deacons should be the solicitors to see every member in the congregation and report to the next council, December 11, 1886. The seven deacon solicitors reported at this meeting, but the amount of the subscriptions was not sufficient to start the new building. It was then decided to make the second canvass and report on Christmas Day, 1886, at the Altland Meetinghouse. From results of the second canvass, the new building was built the following year.

The congregation decided to enlarge the church lot, and on March 26, 1887, a deed was granted by Elizabeth Baker for 33½ perches of land for $25 to the following deacons of the Lower Conewago Church: Benjamin Smith, Isaac King, John Wolf, George Firestone, and Benjamin Hollinger. The building committee for the second Bermudian meetinghouse was Emanuel Gochenour, president; Cornelius Mummert, secretary; George Firestone, treasurer; and Elias Hollinger, contractor. They kept a perfect record of material and labor which amounted to two thousand five hundred fifty-three dollars and eighty-four cents. The first Love Feast held in the new building was October 6th and 7th, 1887.

At the business meeting on March 25, 1893, a resolution was passed to enlarge the church lot, to give more room for a contemplated horse shed. A deed dated March, 1893, was transferred to Jacob Markey, Absolum Trimmer and Peter Harlacher, trustees of Bermudian meetinghouse, by Martin L. and Emma Strayer for seventy perches of land for thirty dollars.

Special Council

At a special council, January 13, 1895, it was decided to build a new shed on the plot of ground just purchased. It was to be one hundred feet in length, and of width sufficient for horse and vehicle to enter on both sides. The shed was built the same year at a cost of $380.43.

A small plot of the church lot was laid out for a cemetery about the same year the first meetinghouse was built in 1856. The epitaph of the first burial is as follows:

In memory of Samuel Groff, Born December 17, 1831, Died June 2, 1865, Aged 24 years, 5 months, 16 days.

Wolgamuth Church

The Wolgamuth Church is along the old Carlisle road, one and one-half miles southeast of Dillsburg. In 1844, Christian Wolgamuth sold to a committee, Benjamin Jacobs, Jacob Firestone, and Daniel Dierdorff, a plot of ground in Carroll township, York County, for a church lot and burying ground for the sum of $5.

The same year a church building was erected at a cost of $385.65. The subscriptions ranged from twelve and a half cents to $20. The church house was remodeled in 1903 and again in 1938.

Altland Meetinghouse

In the year 1795, Philip Altland, of Pardaise Township, York County, sold one acre of his farm located one mile southeast of the village of Bigmount, to three chosen trustees from three churches of that community. Jacob Altland, son of Philip Altland, represented the German Reformed Church, and John Trimmer, the German Baptist Brethren.

A large sheepskin deed dated December 25, 1795, measuring twenty-seven by twenty-nine inches containing over sixteen hundred words was written in long hand, setting forth the particulars of the agreement. Five shillings was the amount paid for the one acre of ground.

Building Erected

A house was to be erected thereon for worship in common, of the three religious societies and for the use of a school and a dewelling for the schoolmaster, also a part of this plot for a place to bury the dead of the above named three societies.

Soon after the purchase of the land, a long log building was erected. The building faced the south. The west end was used for worship and a school room; the east end for the dwelling of the schoolmaster. The building was one and one-half story, and had two doors, one in the school room, the other door was in the dwelling. There were double doors between the school room and the dwelling. When occasion demanded for worship, the doors were opened and part of the dwelling was used. The school room had a table in the center and slab seats around it, also a large stove in one corner. Frederick L. Asper was the teacher of this school for many years.

In 1852, another plot of ground was purchased, and the present brick building erected the next year, 1853. The old school was then discontinued and later converted into a dwelling for the caretaker of the cemetery and meeting house. In the year 1880, June 13th, shortly after Sunday school was dismissed in the afternoon, during a thunder storm the north gable was blown in and the south gable blown out. The building was immediately repaired. In the year 1877, Daniel Jacobs and wife sold to Henry Moul, Elias Berry and Jonas Trimmer, trustees of Altland's meeting house, forty perches of land for an additional hitching ground.

Altland Sunday School

The first Sunday school at the Altland meetinghouse was organized in the year 1877, with Jacob B. Bauhman as superintendent and an enrollment of 133. Others serving as superintendents were Daniel Jacobs, George Henise, Jacob Trostle and Eli Oberdier.

Services were held in both the old meetinghouse and the new building by the three above named churches. About 1896, the Luther-

Iron Springs Brethren In Christ Church Had Humble Beginning In 1-Room School In '22

The Iron Springs Brethren in Christ Church had a humble beginning in 1922 when services were held in a one-room schoolhouse. At present there is a plant of modest design and adequate space.

The little community of Iron Springs is southwest of Fairfield between two mountains. The narrow valley is full of picturesque scenes of bubbling springs, flowing streams, sloping woodland, and a variety of wildlife. The mountainside is etched by a winding railroad track forming in a horse shoe. These combinations make beautiful winter scenes and cool relaxations on a warm summer's evening.

Through 1916 — 1921, there had been the American Sunday School Union and later the Methodists from Fairfield who held some services intermittently. However, by 1921 these groups felt they could not continue services in the community.

Present edifice of the Iron Springs Brethren In Christ Church.

Looked For Opening

This was learned by two young men who were students at Messiah College, Grantham, Pa., and were looking for an opening to hold The men were C. N. Hostetter Jr. and Albert H. Engle, who are now president of Messiah College and executive secretary of the Brethren in Christ Home Mission Board, respectively. These men were granted permission by the local school board to hold the desired services during the summer of 1922.

The results of this meeting created a warm interest in the community so that Rev. Engle began to come at regular intervals to minister at Iron Springs. Other evangelistic services followed and a number of people began to make it their regular place of worship.

Iola Dixon, then a local resident, reported in 1926 Brethren in Christ Handbook of Missions, "The work was begun here four years this fall. God has blessed the efforts put forth by different students from Messiah College. They come twice a month and hold services on Sunday afternoon and evening. Beside these services we hold services when the ministers are not here and prayer meeting on Wednesday night. The Sunday School is growing; a few have joined the church."

Recognized As Mission

The same year the place was recognized as a mission under the Home Mission Board of the sponsoring church; Christian H. Sider was appointed the first resident pastor in 1927. The same report indicates the Sunday School enrollment was 50 pupils. In the 1932 report for the previous year there is a Sunday School enrollment of 70 and 12 church accessions; about a year later the enrollment rose to 75.

The schoolhouse was purchased from the Hamiltonban Township School Board for $51 late in 1928 or early 1929. The land on which the schoolhouse was located was purchased from Luther C. Sanders for $40 on September 25, 1930. Following this, the congregation spent several hundred dollars converting it into a more desirable place of worship. In 1937 electric lights were installed.

After 1930 there was no resident pastor until July, 1944, when Rev. John Garman moved to Iron Springs. During these intervening years a number of supply ministers came in from other areas.

On a deed dated April 1, 1940, a small property was purchased near the church from George J. and Bessie Davis for $400. This was later used for a new church location.

There had been a growing concern for a larger and better church which was more accessible because there was a stream of water between the schoolhouse and the road. For a long time this was forded, but later a bridge was built which was kept in repair by the church. In 1950 a new church was started on the acquired property. The old church, the former schoolhouse, was sold for $1,850.

Much labor was contributed by community residents and by the direction of the pastor, Rev. Leonard A. Falk, a beautiful white country church was erected. At the dedication on May 2, 1954, the estimated cost of the new church was $30,000. This included auditorium, cloak rooms, balcony, and a basement for additional expansion. By May, 1956, there was a small indebtedness of $1,500.

In February, 1955, Rev. Falk resigned as pastor, and Rev. James J. Lesher accepted a call to minister there, beginning in April of the same year.

Other pastors who served the church are: Christian H. Sider, 1927-1930; John Minter, 1931-1935; William Hoke, 1936; John Minter, 1937; Harold Wolgemuth, 1938; Arthur Grove, 1939-42; Mark Wolgemuth, 1943; John Garman, 1944-49; Leonard Falk, 1950-54; and James Lesher, 1955-.

Senate Approves Erosion Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House on Monday passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing construction of flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects to cost a total of $1,343,871,000.

The Senate Public Works subcommittee has completed work on supplementary legislation which would be added to the main bill. The measure was adopted by a voice vote in the House.

Included in the bill are navigation and beach erosion projects which would cost $80,604,000 and flood control projects which would cost $1,263,267,000.

The omnibus measure merely authorizes construction of the projects. Before they can actually be built Congress must vote money to pay for them.

Asks For Campaign On Present Record

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has asked Democratic county chairmen to conduct their fall election campaign on the record of the present state administration.

The governor met on Monday with 64 county chairmen and other statewide Democratic officials to map plans for voter registration, schooling of local committee members, publicity and financing.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, internal affairs secretary and secretary of the State Democratic Committee, said Leader told the county chairmen to point to the administration's work in the fields of mental health, social welfare and education.

SERVICE WIVES EXPRESS VIEWS ON SEPARATION

By KATHERINE PINKHAM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — June brides who quail at thoughts of looming separations from husbands in jobs that will take them far afield might find consolation in the experience of Army and Navy wives.

Some 150 wives of men in the armed forces wrote about it recently in a statewide essay contest in California. Maybe they were whistling in the dark, but a good many cited compensations for the enforced absences of their husbands.

"Taking one another for granted can kill the best marriage and that's one pitfall you're jarred out of," wrote Mrs. Thomas B. Place, wife of a major at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The assigned subject was "Why I Am Proud To Be A Service Wife" and a $100 prize was posted by the Associated Clubs of Wives of the Armed Forces. It went to Mrs. Alden A. Read of Berkeley, wife of a chaplain aboard the USS Bon Homme Richard.

The essays dealt with many phases of service life, but almost all the writers touched upon the painful partings.

"When our husbands are home, we value every moment; when they are away we remember the dearness of their presence" wrote Mrs. Read. During the absences, she added:

"We know we must take over our husbands' responsibilities at home, and we learn to do it and develop our own capabilities and potentialities, which many civilian wives never face until they are forced to it."

Nowadays many jobs take civilians away too—airplane pilots, engineers, technical experts of all kinds, salesmen, trouble shooters. Chain stores, networks and branch systems mean travel for executives in many lines of business, and lonely home stays for their wives.

Navy Wife Speaks

One Navy wife, Mrs. Harold L. Powell, wife of a lieutenant at Moffett Field, said this about it:

"I love my husband and resent any time we are parted. But it is a tremendously maturing process to discover one is capable of being the temporary head of the household."

When he returns. . . . "How comforting it is to have a firm shoulder to lean on — and yet with the inner satisfaction of knowing I can cope without panicking when I am on my own."

Some mentioned the pleasure of getting letters from a husband away, noting they can be a "wonderful addition to marriage."

"It is amazing how many philosophical ideas and concrete expressions of love find their way onto paper that otherwise would have remained just hazy thoughts," said one.

Mrs. J. E. Davies, wife of a major in the Marines, put it like this:

Strengthen Ties

"The family separations have served to strengthen rather than jeopardize our marriage. . . . Self reliance can be a very gratifying realization. . . . Then the reunions have made a series of honeymoons Joe and I probably would not have enjoyed if we'd been constantly together."

The service wives told of traveling about the world, unaccompanied by their husbands, with babies and bottles, toys and tonsillitis. They said women make deeper friendships with each other sometimes because of the help they are able to give each other.

The contest brought out a lot of reasons why women who make a success of it like life in the services. From nearly all came useful tips on how to make a home quickly around your own belongings, whether the structure that contains them is a quonset hut on a Pacific Island, an apartment in Manhattan, a remodeled stable at Newport, or a summer cottage in New Jersey without plumbing.

Prof Returns Books 12 Years Overdue

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — An absent minded professor returned two books to the Victoria Public Library 12 years overdue.

Library officials said the fines would total about $180 but no attempt will be made to collect.

The unidentified professor borrowed the books while he was teaching armed forces personnel here in 1944. They were left in his own collection of books when he left and recently caught up with him at the University of London.

an and Reformed discontinued preaching but a union Sunday school was continued until about 1906. Preaching was held every two weeks by the Church of the Brethren until 1920. From that date to 1939 the only services at the Altland Church were on funeral occasions. In 1939, the Young People's Department of Lower Conewago began reviving the place. Their first meeting was a homecoming, and the three churches were represented. At the present, there are services every third Sunday of each month by the Young People's Department of Lower Conewago, and, by invitation, the young people of the adjoining congregations.

Preaching services were held at the following union churches and schoolhouses: Quaker meetinghouse near Wellsville, Harmony Grove, Augenbaugh's schoolhouse, Strinestown union church, Manchester union church, Cassel's union church near York Haven, Wolgamuth church one and one-half miles southeast of Dillsburg, Altlands meetinghouse near Bigmount and the Bermudian meetinghouse where the Love Feasts were held.

Love Feast Statement

When Lower Conewago Congregation was formed from Big Conewago in 1849, Love Feasts were not held yearly, largely due to the expense involved for holding a Love Feast.

The following is an itemized statement of the Love Feast of 1872: 8 one-gal. crocks apple butter, @ .30 2.40; 93 loaves of bread, @ 12, 11.16; 55 pounds of butter, @ 20, 11.00; 25 pounds of lard, @ .08, 2.00; 30 pies, @ .12, 3.60; 3 bushels of apples, @ 25, .75; 15 bushels oats, @ .35, 5.25; 213 pounds of beef, @ .09, 19.17; 2 lambs, @ 3.00, 6.00; 2 hostlers, @ 5.00, 10.00; 1 bushel of wheat, @ 1.70, 1.70; ½ ton of hay, @ 10.00, 10.00; Flour 1.75; Store bill 10.26; Total $95.04.

The Love Feasts were usually two day feasts, Saturday and Sunday. In the early church the preaching was in Pennsylvania German. Later on the sermons were both English and German and since about 1900, the sermons have been in English. On Love Feast occasions the services began about 10 a.m. the first day, again at 2 p.m. with an examination sermon at 4 o'clock.

The seating at the tables for the Love Feast proper took place about 6 p.m. The second day of the feast, services began at 10 a.m. and lasted usually 2 hours, closing at noon.

All the meals and horse feed were free. The Bermudian meetinghouse was built on the same design as most meetinghouses, basement, first floor and second floor. The second floor was equipped with beds and some bedding plus cradles for the babies. It was divided in two parts and would accommodate about thirty-five or forty people. Usually two deacons and their wives would remain at the church to prepare breakfast for the visitors.

Trail Blazers

Some of the Lower Conewago members were trail blazers; the Himeses, the Wires, the Stouells and others. This group located in Russell County, Kansas, in the early seventies. Russell County lies west of the center of the state and was sparsely settled in those days. Following is a letter received from William B. Himes addressed to William Harbold, a deacon in Lower Conewago Church.

The letter follows in its original composition:

Bunkerhill
Russell Co.
Kansas
April 1, 1875

William Harbolt
Dear Brother:

You letter came to hand to day with draft for ($26.35) twenty-six dollars and thirty-five cts. now in behalf of the doners. They have my heart felt thanks praying that the good Lord may bless them and double for the same.

Now I will try to give you a faint idea of how things are here before we got this money. I don't think there was as much money as would buy one bushel of potatoes in our school district. At present it is reported that there are one hundred cases of people that have the bone skirvy in the county. The docters say it is on account of not having any vegetables to eat. They recommend the people to get potatoes, but few can get them as they are two dollars per bu. here. There are three of us to divide the donations. I think the best we can do is to take a good part of this money and get potatoes to eat and plant. We will try and help all now. The most that is suffering for the want of something to eat is our horses. There issent more than two in our district that have eny hay and no grain to feed of eny kind. The government is now furnishing the people with some rations. Dont know how long it will last. Now I will tell you that Sister Stouell died on the 22 second of this month of the bone skirvy and Bro. Alfred has it to. That is her husband and their oldest son and also old Sister Stouell the mother of the one that died. She leaves four children behind one only one year old. There is truly a good bit of trouble out here now but I hope the Lord will again smile upon us so that we may have a good harvest. Those that have fall wheat out I think will have good prospects of wheat as it looks very nise now. I have got my spring wheat sewed. The wether was nise till the last few days it snowed but to day the snow went fast. Now I will tell you that the Brethren have done a heap in helping the poor. A meny a one is made glad by their donations. If it would not have been for the donations we would have starved here or the best part of the people. Well I must close by saying I often wish I could be in with our dear Brethren at their meetings. Our relations are all well but Mrs. Wire, she is sick and not able to be out of bed.

Our love to all,
WM. B. HIMES

BURTONS PLAN SCENIC TOUR OF S. AMERICA

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice and Mrs. Harold H. Burton are on their first visit to South America during the Supreme Court recess this summer. Every year since 1947 they have gone to Europe.

Most of the trip will be by air "to get a bird's eye view of the sights that are beautiful," Mrs. Burton explained. "The places we like best we can revisit another time for a longer stay." They will be gone until the last of August.

"By then some 300 to 400 cases will have come in to the court, and the Justice will have to settle down to studying them," Mrs. Burton told me. The Burtons are traveling alone. Their two sons, two daughters, six granddaughters and three grandsons, most of whom live around Cleveland, they saw at family clambakes before leaving.

No Protocol

"We're traveling simply as Selma and Harold Burton, and no one where we go will feel he has to do any official entertaining for us," the Justice's wife erplained. "We are traveling light so we can keep moving from place to place as we wish."

Justice and Mrs. Sherman Minton also expect to travel. They plan to visit England, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries, Germany, Luxembourg and France. Their daughter' Mrs. John Callanan, married to a dentist and mother of four boys, and their son, John, who is with the Department of the Interior, live in Washington. Another son, Dr. Sherman Minton Jr., married and the father of three daughters, is a teacher at the University of Indiana and lives at New Albany, Ind.

Attend Conference

Justice and Mrs. Tom Clark will begin their vacation by going to Santa Fe, N. M., to attend a conference of Clark's judicial circuit and then proceed to Dallas, Tex., for a short visit with relatives These include Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. William F. Ramsey and their son, Ramsey, his wife, and two children. The rest of the summer they expect to spend right here in the capital where they have an air-conditioned apartment. Living with them at the moment are their pretty daughter, Mimi, and their year-old granddaughter, Gail. Mimi's husband, Navy Lt. Thomas R. Gronlund, is in Newfoundland.

Justice and Mrs. Felix Frankfurter plan to spend their usual summer in New England, and Justice and Mrs. John M. Harlan are at their home in Westport, Conn.

Mummasburg Mennonite Congregation Was Moved There From McKnightstown In 1823

Just when the Mennonites first came to Adams County and organized what is now known as the Mummasburg Mennonite Church is part of the mystery of those early days in the county when the first settlers were hewing homes and farms out of the forest. There is a tradition that the Mennonites first came to Adams County from Hagerstown and worshiped in private homes.

The first Mennonite Church at Mummasburg was erected in 1823 on a lot donated by John Mumma. Earlier there had been a church at McKnightstown opposite Flohr's Lutheran Church. The Mennonite records testify that the Mennonites moved into the Adams County area before the French and Indian Wars, 1754-63.

In a history of the Mennonite movement it is stated that "before the French and Indian War, (1754-63), Lancaster County Mennonites, following the advancing tide of settlements, planted colonies across the Susquehanna in York County, (including that area that later became Adams County), and then through the Cumberland valley in Cumberland and Franklin Counties, Pa., and Washington County, Md." No further details are given.

The earliest record tells of the moving of the present Mummasburg congregation from a site near McKnightstown in 1823. The old church near McKnightstown was on the north side of the road opposite Flohr's Lutheran Church, then known as the Reformed and Lutheran Union Church. When the congregation moved, the old church edifice was razed. In 1885 a schoolhouse was noted as being on the site of the old Mennonite church, but it too has gone. The cemetery of the original congregation remains near the original church site.

John Mumma in 1820 had the site of Mummasburg (Mummasburgh) surveyed and plotted into 150 lots, one of which was the spring, donated for public use, one for a schoolhouse and one or two for religious purposes. Many of the lots were placed in a lottery, each represented by a $56 ticket, on which a lot number was written.

A record notes that "In 1822-23 John Mumma succeeded in having the Mennonite Church at Flohr's removed to the new town, and donated the original Wislar lot to the congregation. Here a meetinghouse was erected in 1823, and the cemetery laid out by John Wislar and Tobias Boyer, the first trustees."

Sometime in the late 1700's the Rev. Abraham Roth, York County, married Miss Maria Mumma, daughter of John Mumma and native of Adams County. To them was born in 1800 Jonas Roth. Jonas is recorded as coming to the neighborhood of Roth's Mills about 1825.

Although Jonas was already Barbara Kauffman, of near East Berlin, he may have moved to Adams County with his father, Abraham, who is recorded as having bought 212 acres of land and mill property upon his settling in Adams County. The mill noted was a grist-mill built by John Mumma in 1807.

The Rev. Abraham Roth was a Mennonite minister, having entered the ministry as a young man, and is the first minister recorded as serving the Mummasburg Church. This may be a clue to the use of "succeeded" in the historian's record of John Mumma's efforts to have the Mennonite Church moved from Flohr's to Mummasburg.

Rev. Roy M. Geigley is present co-laborer with Rev. Myer at Mummasburg Mennonite Church. He is also co-laborer with Bishop Richard Danner who oversees Adams and York County churches.

Rev. Amos W. Myer, senior minister of Mummasburg Mennonite Church, has served the congregation since his ordination in 1910.

The Rev. Mr. Roth was described as "an able minister" and served as the first bishop of York and Adams Counties for the Mennonite Church. He was assisted in the Mummasburg Church by the Revs. David Reiff, George Herone and Christian Shank. Roth had six children. The third child, Daniel, became a minister of the Mummasburg Church but the dates of his ministry are not known.

Christian Shank, assistant to Abraham Roth, died February 11, 1872. Shank's son, Daniel, was the minister of the Mummasburg Mennonite Church from 1854 until 1878, and then served as bishop until 1893, assisted by Martin Wislar who was ordained in 1873. Wislar died July 5, 1906. It is not known if Martin was of any relation to John Wislar, one of the first church trustees.

Jacob Bucher was ordained a minister of the Mummasburg Church on November 4, 1897. Bucher was the son of Bela Bucher, a Mennonite minister at Stony Brook, York County. He died March 16, 1926.

The Rev. Amos W. Myer, formerly a co-laborer with the Rev. Jacob Bucher and presently the senior minister of the church, was ordained December 4, 1910. The Rev. Amos Geigley was installed as a co-laborer in 1918 and served until 1926 when a number of the congregation and the Rev. Mr. Geigley founded the Fairfield Mennonite Church.

On December 25, 1936, the Rev. Roy M. Geigley, nephew of the Rev. Amos Geigley, was ordained. He is the present co-laborer with the Rev. Mr. Myer. The Rev. Roy Geigley is also a co-laborer with Bishop Richard Danner of the Hanover congregation who has bishop over-sight of Adams and York County churches.

In June 1939, part of the Mummasburg Mennonite congregation started worshiping in the Bethel Mennonite Church, sometimes known as the Union Church. They called the Rev. A. A. Landis, Lancaster County, to be their minister.

In the Mennonite Church it is possible to have several ministers serving a congregation at the same time. To choose a minister, several men of the congregation are selected as candidates and a lot is cast. The man receiving the lot is ordained to the ministry for life, subject to action by the congregation to the contrary.

Cline's Evangelical United Bretheran Church Was Founded About 1847; Oldest EUB Church In County

Cline's Church is located about one-quarter mile off Route 34 at Gardners, Pa., at a spot where the "Long Lane" crossed the old Carlisle-Gettysburg Road. Today it is completely surrounded by apple orchards. In the spring during blossom time no more beautiful or peaceful spot could be found. The stone church was built in 1850. In its church yard are buried members of many of the old families of Adams County.

Back in 1904 when the Reverend Barnhart, then serving the church, died of smallpox the records of the church were burned. However from the Sunday School records and those of the United Brethren Conference, certain facts are known. The building is the oldest United Brethren Church house in Adams County. It was built during the pastorate of Reverend John Fohl. Before the erection of the building the congregation worshipped in the home of Joseph Cline. Originally the church was a part of the Bendersville Charge. In 1933 the name of the charge was changed to the Mount Tabor Charge.

In 1848 the Reverend John Fohl, then pastor of the Littlestown Circuit, went about the northern portions of York and Adams Counties serving as a missionary. In 1849 he reported ten organized churches to the Conference. It is believed that Cline's Church was one of these newly organized congregations and that work on the present building was begun immediately. A stone placed high above the two doorways is dated 1850.

Pastoral List

A fine Bible, presented to the church by the Reverend John Fohl in 1850, has been found and was one of the items of interest displayed on Homecoming Day this year.

The following pastors have served Cline's Church; Rev. John Fohl, 1847-51; no record, 1851-59; Rev. I. C. Weidler, 1859-62; Rev. H. Y. Hummelbaugh, 1862-64; Rev. J. A. Clem, 1864-66; Revs. J. A. Clem and G. Lightner, 1866-67;

The Cline's EUB Church is the oldest United Brethren Church in Adams County. It was built during the pastorate of Rev. John Fohl about 1847 and was originally a part of the Bendersville Charge.

Rev. W. Owen, 1867-69; Rev. S. Bigham, 1869-70; Rev. J. B. Jones, 1870-72; Rev. I. C. Weidler, 1872-75; Rev. E. W. Koontz, 1875-77; Rev. J. S. Wentz, 1877-79; Rev. J. H. Snoke, 1879-81; Rev. J. P. Anthony, 1881-83; and Rev. D. W. Sollenberger, 1883-85.

Rev. R. Wood, 1885-87; Rev. T. Wagner, 1887-89; Rev. W. O. Grimm, 1889-91; Rev. L. Kohl, 1891-93; Revs. O. P. Harnish and O. F. Diller, 1893-94; Rev. O. P. Harnish, 1894-95; Rev. G. W. Heffleman, 1895-96; Rev. William Quigley 1896-99; Rev. D. Barnhart, 1889-1904; Rev. M. R. Fleming, March to October 1904; Rev. C. W. Christman, 1904-08; Rev. J. W. Waters, 1908-09; Rev. B. P. S. Busey, 1909-11; and Rev. F. L. Stine, 1911-13.

Rev. P. C. Hoffman, 1913-14; Rev. J. C. Gardner, 1914-18; Revs. G. E. Smith and C. G. Stambach, 1918-19; Rev. C. G. Stambach, 1919-20; Rev T. D. Ritter, 1920-22; Rev. Roy R. Ziegler, 1922-23; Rev D. Turns To Verse For Proper Golf Attire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Not wishing to arouse the ire of golfers nor dictate fashion to them, Dayton City Welfare Director Alfred P. Strozdas turned to poetry instead.

Now, at the first tees of three city-owned courses, signs read:

"We don't mean to preach,
"This isn't the beach.
"Will you kindly wear golfing attire?
"Shorts to your knees and full tops please,
"It's the costume we most admire."

PLASTIC MAKES WORK A BREEZE

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Americans are an ingenious lot. Products of their inventiveness have managed to make people happy and to heighten the standard of living over all the world. Everything from the sewing machine to the telephone makes woman's life in the home more tolerable.

Every day new gadgets appear that ease our way of life. Few people know who invented the electric mixer or the dishwasher, although they rejoice in using these time savers.

Many times designs originate as the result of competition such as the annual one conducted by one producer of raw plastic molding material.

Beauty as well as utility were stressed in many of the entries. Thermo tumblers made of a rigid plastic were designed to keep from sweating when filled with cold drinks. A teeter tray made of a flexible-type plastic holds six glasses and the tumbers remain upright in their swivel holders at any angle the tray is held.

Then for bathing baby a portable utility cart offers a dual prospect. It may be folded up and put out of the way when not in use for that purpose or used as a laundry cart or work cart.

OUTSIDE CHANCE

POTTER, Neb. (AP) — Dave Thies unwrapped his motor vehicle license plates and on the paper separating them found a note from a convict at the state penitentiary where the plates are made. It read:

"You are sure lucky to be on the outside, getting these, instead of making them."

UNCLE IT IS

CAREER BOOKS CAN HELP YOU IN YOUR WORK

The Associated Press

Career books are helpful reading even if you have made up your mind about your future.

Every girl should have career knowledge behind her that will come in handy in emergencies, even if she doesn't need to work now.

Young people flirt with many work ideas before they finally settle down to that real honest-to-goodness enterprise. It is a good idea not only to read everything you can on the subject of your ambition, but to try to work in related fields at every opportunity — after-school, weekends and vacations.

Career books are available at public libraries on any subject you choose. If you yearn to be a nurse you'll find excellent advice on bookshelves. Or perhaps you see yourself dancing "The Swan" before the footlights. In that case books on ballet might encourage the ambition.

Fashion Field

Many young girls seek careers in fashion, spurred on no doubt, by the glamor attached to fashion designers these days. A girl with artistic talent is likely to want to investigate the fashion field, where an outlet for her creative abilities may be realized. There are so many facets of it that if she really works at the idea, she is likely to find a niche in some phase of it.

She might sketch fashion designs for newspapers or magazines, or sketch her own creations. Or perhaps she will write about the fashion world or go in for fashion photography.

Television offers possibilities to the fashion girl with a glib tongue.

A new and interesting book for fashion-conscious types is Beryl Williams' "Young Faces in Fashion" (Lippincott). Miss Williams' foreword is an interesting, concise history of the heart of American fashion industry in New York where 4,000 wholesale clothing houses employ some 300,000 persons. You will learn that fabrics are selected in January and February for clothes to be found in shops in the fall, that by June the designers' collections are completed and sample garments are displayed in showrooms for shop and department store buyers. The success or failure of a garment is determined by the critical eyes of the buyers. Four or five collections of clothes are produced each year with perhaps 50 or more numbers in each collection.

Cite Anne Fogarty

Some of the young designers to be met in Miss Williams' book are Ann Fogarty whose feminine full-skirted clothes are popular with young moderns and who wears a size 7 dress herself, and has an 18-inch waistline. Her story should help encourage a talented girl who has a yen to design fashions. Jeanne Campbell who designs sportswear and the Frankfurt sisters of Dallas who design stork clothes also give a boost to the fashion designing idea in the book.

There are good schools of fashion where one might test abilities for the fashion world, too.

Smokey Says:

Forest fires grow big too! Don't start them!

OTHER FRONTS OF 'TEEN-AGE' ACTION BARED

The Associated Press

Any day now you might be having lunch a few hundred miles away from home, what with new planes like the F-104A to carry your parachute.

It's a good idea to keep up to date on what's happening around. Here are some cues . . .

La Mesa, Calif. . . . The name "Boulevard Shagnasty" survived two weeks on the Helix High School roster here, with somebody answering at roll calls, before school authorities finally fathomed there was no such student.

Muskegon, Mich. . . . If teen-agers at Catholic Central High School here get short of ready cash, they can dip into credit union funds. The organization, which members believe is the first of its kind in the nation, has a charter from the state to operate as the Holy Family Assn. Credit Union. It will emphasize savings but loans are available also. If you borrow $5 it costs you only 5 cents to finance it for a month.

'Square Heads'

Knoxville, Tenn. . . . It now costs another two bits to be a square. Most barbershops here have raised the price of flat-top haircuts to $1.25. The flat-tops are supposed to give a square-head look, the current rage among youngsters. Other style cuts are still $1.

Worcester, Mass. . . . Diane Plante, 17, of Sterling, and Roger Salmonsen, 17, of Worcester, date by carrier pigeon. This system was devised because Diane doesn't have a telephone but she does have some homing pigeons. The brids carry dating messages between the couple several times a week. Roger's father, assistant postmaster in a nearby town, hopes the fad does not catch on.

Oklahoma City . . . Central High School's O Club usually picks the prettiest girl for its queen. This year it pulled a switch. Doris Taylor, an English teacher who has been an instructor for 26 years as a "sweetheart to end all sweethearts," is going to be queen. Why? Because she hasn't missed a major athletic contest in the years she's been at Central.

Baby Sitter Course

Yellow Grass, Sask. . . . Twenty-seven high school students received certificates as baby sitters after completing a course here. Boys as well as girls took instruction from a public health nurse.

Poundridge, N. Y. . . . Judy Lewis returned from a Florida vacation with an endless variety of jargon, including the newest "See you later, alligator." To which one answers — "After awhile, crocodile." The boys, all inspired by space ships, are likely to say "Blast-off" instead of "drop daid" these days, she says.

HONEST THIEVES

NO STRIPPED GEARS

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—William Colbert was waved to a stop by a woman in a stalled car. He pushed the car 16 blocks but it didn't start.

Puzzled, he asked if she was sure she had the car in gear.

"Are you supposed to do that?" she asked.
